DEFENDS RULES.

Cannon Makes Plea for Progress.

Speaker Tells House of the Necessity for Well Oiled Machine.

"Where Responsibility Rests There Must Be Power to Move On."

Points to Need of Rivers and Harbors Appropriation; Raps "Yellows."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—"If we lose sight of our own importance and of our own position for the time being, there will come in our places better and wiser men who will not lose sight of the necessity to provide for an orderly procedure under which a majority can work its will. Where responsibility rests, there must be power with the majority to move on, being responsible."

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, laying aside his gavel and speaking today from the floor of the House, merely as "the gentleman from Illinois," sounded this warning to his colleagues.

"Representative" Cannon arose for the purpose of lending his approval to the pending river and harbor appropriation bill, but during his speech, which lasted about twenty minutes, he took occasion to refer lightly to magazine and newspaper criticism and to tell the minority members that the power of the majority was futile unless enforced by a well-oiled machine.

"GENTLEMAN FROM ILLINOIS."

It was while Representative Fitzgerald (Dem.) of New York had the floor that members were surprised to see the Speaker rise from a seat on the floor and inquire:

"Will the gentleman from New York yield to me?"

"I will yield to the gentleman—I believe from Illinois," replied Mr. Fitzgerald, smilingly.

Mr. Cannon told the House how he voted for a river and harbor bill during President Arthur's administration and explained that he had voted to pass that measure over the President's veto. He said he had had some trouble in justifying that vote before his constituents, but said he did so.

"I thanked God then and I thank Him now," said Mr. Cannon, "that the constituency, agricultural district as it is today, had the patriotism, crossed with breadth and intelligence, to stand by me at the polls."

As the Speaker was enlarging upon the need of breadth of view to obtain approval all over the country for appropriations for river and harbor improvements, Representative Dalzell of Pennsylvania, who occupied the chair, began hammering the desk before him with the Speaker's gavel.

"The time of the gentleman has expired," he exclaimed, in mock severity.

"May I have one minute more?" pleaded the Speaker.

Mr. Fitzgerald then secured consent to have his time extended five minutes, and Mr. Cannon proceeded.

With the eye of prophecy, he saw the nation's population growing from 90,000,000 to 500,000,000. Already we have almost half of the railroad mileage of this earth, he said, carrying almost a third of the products of the civilized world back and forth to market.

"Long before the 500,000,000 are here," he said, "if we are to depend on railroad transportation alone, we will have the railway mileage multiplied by two, multiplied by three, multiplied by four. It is a long work to add to nature sufficient depth of water to carry the great and constantly increasing commerce."

In connection with newspaper attacks of his trip down the Mississippi with President Taft, Mr. Cannon said:

"When I turned to come back from New Orleans, from the criticism I received, founded on incorrect information, I wondered whether I was afoot or on horseback, whether I was I or somebody else.

"I expect we will continue to receive all kinds of fake information, that our great metropolitan journals may continue, some of them, to make their papers from day to day, like the Yankee made his razor—to sell. But I desire to say to the gentlemen on both sides of the House, that, in the last analysis, from the two great organizations—the minority from time to time putting the majority on its good behavior and seeking to become the majority—will come correct legislation, and correct appropriations, for the greater good of the people of the republic."

MORE ARGUMENT.

HIGH PRICES TALK IS BUGABOO, SAY GROCERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Who got the money? To the attempted solutions of the high cost of living problems, discussions of which are reaching from Coast to Coast, and challenging the attention of men of high and low degree, Chicago retail grocers tonight added a radical contribution.

At a "food purveyor's banquet," in the La Salle Hotel, 200 grocers and representatives of allied interests listened to speeches in which increased prices of foodstuffs were charged to the tariff, the gold output, the farmer, labor unions, monopoly, or else denied altogether, and the majority opinion of the banqueters was to the effect that the talked of increase in prices was only bugaboo not supported by fact.

One speaker, admitting the increase in the price of meats, declared that the rise would go on rapidly until European conditions should exist here and meat be treated as a luxury, dispensed with among the poor and used once a week by the rich.

Prices were asserted by another banqueter to be lower than ever before in a comparative sense, the supposed increase being based solely on the fact that the output of gold was large. The argument was that the ratio between food products and gold output showed in reality a decrease in the price of living.

Investigators of conditions were characterized as "agitators," "sensationalists," and "futile reformers."

One speaker demanded that the tariff be removed to the end that lower prices for food obtain. Another insisted that it be retained to accomplish the same end. The government was called upon to let up on investigations and devote its strength to popularizing the farm and farming.

Monopolies were criticised and condoned. Labor was berated and championed. Trusts were villified and excused. The tariff was excoriated and commended. Views of optimist vied with ideas of pessimist, while others presented data to show that prices were lower than during Civil War days and higher, too.

S. W. Roth, editor of the Retailer's Journal, on whose initiative the Chicago retailers met at the banquet, declared a desire to stem the tide of agitation which "laid the blame for high prices at the wrong doors." Roth was introduced as the first speaker by Toastmaster James S. Agar, president of the Western Packing and Provision Company. Roth insisted that the increase in farm land values was to blame for the increase in the cost of living and that fact alone.

"You cannot raise 5-cent beef on land that is worth $100 an acre," said Roth. "There was a time when a man could journey out through the farming lands of our country, when the prairie chickens fled in coveys before him. Then the land was sold at $10 an acre. Now that same land has gone up to $160 and $150 an acre.

"With that increase in the price of land it is impossible for the farmer to feed and market stock. That is the only reason for this increase in the prices of foodstuffs—the increase in the price of land. And it is the most natural thing in the world. Why can't these reformers see that as well as the people who try to look at the thing in a calm, sane way?"

SOLE SURVIVOR'S NARRATIVE.

RODEL TELLS HOW THE CHANZY WAS WRECKED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CIUDADELA (Balearic Islands) Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Marcel Rodel, the sole survivor of the steamer General Chanzy, which was wrecked Thursday on a reef off the Island of Minorca, told a thrilling narrative prior to his departure for France this evening, of the terrible experiences of the steamer. He said:

"At 5 o'clock I was awakened by a frightful scene. Enormous seas were breaking over the steamer. One sea ripped off a railing to which a score of women and children were clinging. Being an excellent swimmer, I allowed myself to be carried off by the next wave. The next moment the air was rent by a violent explosion, the wreckage shooting over my head."

Rodel took refuge in a grotto at the base of a high cliff, where he passed a The darkness added terror to the

SEARCH FOR NINA

Ships Scour Sea for Navy Tug.

Only Hope Lies in Absence of Wreckage Along Atlantic Coast.

Little Vessel, However, Is of Steel and May Have Sunk With Crew.

Last Seen Eight Days Ago in Gale With Spray Washing Over Her.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The search of the United States Navy and revenue cutter service for the navy tug Nina and her crew of thirty-two men was continued today with grim fidelity. Not a trace of the little craft has been found at the end of the third day, and the only hope lies in the absence of any reports of wreckage in the broad expanse of water from Norfolk to Boston.

Even this is discounted by the fact that the vessel, being of steel, may have gone suddenly to the bottom before the crew had time to launch a boat or displace a life-preserver. The fate of the crew is all a matter of conjecture, and the hope to which officials cling is that they were picked up by some passing vessel not yet spoken by the searching squadron.

Today the Navy Department ordered the fast scout cruiser Salem to proceed to winter quarters at Fenwick Island, and to explore the water there. This action was taken on word from the recruiting office at Baltimore that the Merchant and Miners' ship Howard, had sighted the Nina at noon, February 4, nine miles southeast of Fog Island, just below Fenwick.

At that time a gale from the northwest, with increasing velocity was tossing the tug, and spray was washing over her pit.

The Gresham is continuing the search today in the waters north and east of Cape Cod; the Castine is exploring Nantucket Bay, and Vineyard Sound, and the Caesar is going westward from Cape Cod lightship on the possibility that the tug may have been blown out to sea.

TRAPPED.

PLOT TO STEAL MINE AMALGAM.

FOUR PROMINENT GOLDFIELD MEN ARRESTED.

Guard Approached to Aid Thieves Notifies Employers and Trap Is Laid Which Works to Perfection. Leader of Gang Is Politician and Labor Agitator.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Bart Knight, town constable and candidate for Sheriff on the Democratic ticket next fall; Jake Hildebrandt, owner of the Turf saloon, formerly of South Africa; M. J. Smith, assayer, and Martin Miller, an employé of the Consolidated Mines Company, were arrested at noon and released on bonds of $12,000 each.

The men are charged with conspiracy and robbery preferred by the Consolidated. The charge is based on information filed by William Zimmerman, formerly a saloon-keeper and now a guard at the mill. He declares that the four men came to him to organize a plot to steal amalgam off the plates. Zimmerman was to keep his back turned during the stealing and share the proceeds equally with others.

He reported the plot to his principals and a conference was arranged at Zimmerman's house, which was attended by all five men. Two stenographers were concealed behind curtains and the conversation was taken for evidence.

The confederates were allowed to proceed and when it came to paying it was arranged that marked bills should be given. These were taken to the guard's house and divided. The bills were easily traced to the place where they were spent, owing to the scarcity of paper money in this district. Then the trap was sprung and all hands were arrested.

Knight has been one of the most conspicuous figures in Goldfield since his arrival here from Cripple Creek five years ago. He took an active part in politics and during the late régime of the Democratic Sheriff he was Under Sheriff. He was identified with the Western Federation of Miners and the I.W.W. and was currently reported to have been mixed in several suspicious transactions two years ago when "high grading" was at its height.

Only last week Knight solicited George Wingfield, president of the Consolidated, to lend his support to his candidacy for Sheriff. He was a close personal friend of Gov. Dickerson, whose campaign for renomination was conducted by Knight in this part of the State.

HEART WON BY VISCOUNT'S RAPID COURTSHIP.

Miss Margarita Armstrong Drexel, whose engagement to Earl's son was recently announced after rapid, ardent courtship of the young Englishman.

MUST HAVE TITLE.

RICH AMERICAN GIRL TO WED SON OF EARL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Viscount Maidstone, son of the Earl of Winchelsea, entertained at dinner at the Ritz Hotel the other night his American fiancée, Margarita Drexel, a friend and his sister, Lady Gladys Pleydell-Bouverie. Afterward the party went to a theater and saw "The Dollar Princess."

Miss Drexel was dressed in blue chiffon, with silver lining and a streak of metallic blue like an arrow ran through her hair. She wore her sapphire and diamond engagement ring. Everybody remarked:

"What a good-looking couple."

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Drexel were not with their daughter. It was the first time she had not been chaperoned.

Maidstone has been deluged with felicitations upon his engagement. The courtship was rapid. He met Miss Drexel two years ago, but only began to woo her within a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Drexel have received a message of congratulation from King Edward, in which he intimates a wish to attend the wedding if his engagements permit.

Lord Maidstone is not rich, but Harlech Castle, the family seat in Wales, which he will inherit, is a most picturesque, historic structure. It has been called the ideal castle of childhood—high-perched, four square, round towered, impressively massive. A famous picture of it by Turner is in the family possession.

The "March of the Men of Harlech's" commemorates its capture by the Yorkists in 1468. It was the last strong hold in North Wales to hold out for Charles I.

The Finck-maltons are highly popular. Lord Maidstone has inherited the charms of manner and disposition for which they are noted. His favorite pastime is golf, at which he is a first-class player.

Mr. Drexel is to give Margarita a furnished house somewhere in Mayfair, possibly on Grosvenor Square, near his own town residence.

It is expected that the wedding will be in June. Before it takes place, Mr. and Mrs. Drexel, Margarita, Lord Maidstone and Mrs. James H. Smith will go to New York to attend the marriage of Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., and Marjorie Gould.

Lord Maidstone is a great favorite in society, belonging rather to the thinking set among the young society men than the mere "flannels." He is 25 years old and was educated at Eton and Oxford.

Two of his cousins are Lady Muriel Paget and Lady Constance Howard, the present Lord Winchelsea having succeeded his brother and half-brother.

Miss Drexel has been prominent for several years in high society circles of England and has had many honors showered upon her by the British aristocracy. She was presented at court by the Duchess of Connaught in 1907, gaining wide popularity at once through her beauty, wit and grace.

Since that time her name has been mentioned frequently in gossip concerning notable international alliances. Rumor had it recently that an ardent suitor was Prince Francis Joseph, second son of the Duke and Duchess of Braganza, parents of Prince Miguel of Braganza, who was married last September to Miss Anita Stewart of Baltimore, stepdaughter of James Henry Smith, who died in Japan while on his honeymoon. This report met with prompt denial.

ECHO OF HOCKING POOL FAILURES.

KEENE SAYS GREED CAUSE OF SMASHUPS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "By Jove!" exclaimed James R. Keene, greatest of Wall Street manipulators, while on the witness stand before United States Commissioner Alexander, telling about the Hocking pool and its disruption, today. "They (the pool members) were so greedy they determined to go ahead. I knew something would happen."

Mr. Keene threw up his hands and brought them down on the table in front of him. He seemed to emphasize his disgust for the pool members for whom he had operated. He thus explained that he had been forced into the second Hocking pool against his own judgment.

He had carried the members through one pool and they had made money. That seemed to whet their appetites. They wanted to go on and form another pool. He advised against it, but submitted under pressure. They bought the stock back, and, as he had feared, the crash came—the crash in which three firms went down to bankruptcy.

It was the fact that Keene made $254,000 for the first pool members that caused the greed. For just before he left the stand for the day he explained that the first Hocking pool cleared that amount. The success and the prospect of more excited the members to urge him to go on.

During the testimony one of the sufferers, Hugh A. Crias, stepped into the room. Mr. Crias is the "goat" so far in the Hocking affair. He was the man who bought the stock for the pool memebrs and found that they would not take it.

Mr. Keene was on the witness stand in the bankruptcy proceedings of J. M. Fiske & Co., one of the pool members, who had gone to the wall when the smash came. It was the first time that he had ever been compelled to tell how he operated. "Hell, Steve," them since the time that Jay Gould was the power on Wall Street.

Mr. Keene admitted that he organized two pools, one on March 1, 1909, one on July 14, 1909, and that Fiske and Company were subscribers to the latter.

Mr. Wolfe asked the witness if the March 1 pool was to continue until March 1, 1910. Keene said he did not know, and Wolfe then read the agreement which set forth that the pool of March 1 was to continue until March 1, 1910.

"Well, if it is in the agreement, it must be so," said Keene with apparent annoyance.

Wolfe asked how much stock Keene had ordered, and the financier replied that the amount was 6900 shares.

"What did you do with it?" was the next question.

"Did nothing with it," was the reply.

"Didn't you put the stock in the pool?" asked Wolfe.

"No, sir," was the reply with a show of indignation. "I never do that. The stock was sold the latter part of April or May."

Mr. Keene said that the highest amount of shares held by the pool was just before the collapse.

"I have all the shares which I was obliged to take up by the agreement. And I have them all."

"Did you not make short sales?" asked Mr. Wolfe.

"Not a short sale of any description, directly or indirectly."

"December, 1909, did you make any short sales?"

"I don't know. I may have sold some of the 6900 shares, the last of which I sold in May and June."

Mr. Keene said that he had never come in contact with any members of the pool except Messrs. Haskins and Fiske.

"Who suggested the formation of pool No. 2?"

"I think Mr. Haskins. He very likely spoke to me about it, and I thought it was all right, but I am not sure that it was he who suggested it."

GLAVIS.

parchment reef." Glavis declared he said: "There is approximately, etc."

Many of the corrections merely had to do with typographical errors.

Where the record read "entirely coal," Glavis declared he had said "practically all."

It was 12 o'clock when the last of the corrections had been made and Mr. Vertrees took up the cross-examination of the witness. He inquired first as to Glavis's knowledge as to the amount of coal in Alaska.

The witness said he understood the coal areas were large, but he had never examined the geological survey reports.

CUNNINGHAM FIRST.

The Cunningham claims, he said, contained a small part of the coal areas of Alaska—about thirty claims out of nine hundred. Mr. Vertrees drew from the witness that the Cunningham claims were the first of the Alaska claimants to pay up on their claims and that in numerical order they were entitled to first consideration in any investigation that was to be made.

"You made a report to the President in September, 1909?" asked Mr. Vertrees.

"Yes, sir."

"And on November 3, there appeared an article in a weekly paper entitled 'The Whitewashing of Ballinger; Were the Guggenheims in Charge of Department of the Interior?' by L. R. Glavis. Are you the author of that article?"

"Yes, sir, I'm the author of the article, but I am not responsible for the heading or the subheads explaining the paragraphs?"

"Did you receive anything for that article?"

"Not a cent."

"You wrote it gratuitously?"

"Yes, sir."

"Your testimony before the committee then makes these statements of the facts as you understand them?"

"Yes, sir."

TO LET THE PEOPLE KNOW.

Glavis said he had presented the facts to let people draw their own inferences.

"Did you intentionally refrain from making any charges?"

"Yes, sir."

"What did you think the facts showed?"

"They proved that I did not think the Interior Department was in safe hands."

"I do not want your conclusions; but what definite misconduct on the part of any one did the facts show?"

"There is no charge of criminality," replied Glavis.

"You have to take all the facts together and form your opinion. You couldn't take any one fact and form a right opinion. Taken all together, the facts then convinced you of what?"

"That the Land Department was not in safe hands and that the people's interests were not being protected in the Alaska cases."

"What officers did you think were not protecting the possible interests?"

"Ballinger and Dennett. And Pierce, too, rendering the decision interpreting the act of May 26, 1908."

"You thought the facts established misconduct on the part of Ballinger and Dennett?"

"Yes."

"Anybody else"

"Conclusively as to those two men. I had not formed an opinion as to the others?"

AFTER TWO SCALPS.

"Whom did you want to accuse?"

"Mr. Ballinger and Mr. Dennett."

"Mr. Ballinger, being the Secretary of the Interior, and Mr. Dennett, Commissioner of the Land Office, and Mr. Pierce being First Assistant Secretary?"

"Yes."

"You say Ballinger and Dennett and Pierce were guilty of misconduct, but you make no charge of corruption?"

"If I had thought the facts warranted a charge of corruption, I would have gone to the grand jury instead of the President."

"Then you did not believe there were any corrupt motives or conduct?"

"No."

"And the most you meant to say to the President and people was that you did not think the affairs of the Interior Department were in safe hands."

"Yes, sir."

"And that was all you did mean?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you think it was an error of judgment, their not protecting the interests of the people?"

"No; the facts showed it was intentional."

"Yet you say it was not corrupt?"

"Perhaps you and I don't hold the same view of the meaning of corrupt."

"Give us your view."

"I think when a man acts corruptly he acts criminally. There are no charges of criminality here."

THREE ONLY RESPONSIBLE.

Mr. Vertrees carried the witness through the list of names of all the Land Office people mentioned in the case, and Glavis said he exonerated every one of misconduct except Ballinger, Pierce and Dennett.

Glavis said he had always liked Schwartz, chief of the field service, and he believed anything Schwartz had done that was wrong was due to the thoughtlessness or had been under orders of his superiors.

"Now as to the wrong of Mr. Pierce—" began Mr. Vertrees.

Glavis interrupted. "I want to make a correction about Mr. Pierce. I think he was erroneous in his construction of the law and not that he was guilty of any wilful wrong-doing."

"Then you make no attack upon his official integrity?"

"No, sir."

"And there is nothing else against Mr. Pierce?"

"No, sir."

"And leaves us only Mr. Dennett and Mr. Ballinger under accusations of wrong-doing?"

"Yes."

"At this point the luncheon recess was ordered. Mr. Vertrees's examination of the witness was interrupted once by Representative Graham (Democrat,) who declared the attorney was cutting the witness off in the middle of his answers. He said Glavis's speech was so slow as to amount almost to a defect. Mr. Vertrees apologized and said he had only meant to interrupt the witness when his answers were going farther than the questions warranted.

TAKES UP DENNETT.

At the afternoon session S. H. Schwartz of the Land Office sat with counsel for Mr. Ballinger. Mr. Vertrees immediately began to question Glavis as to his accusations of Mr. Dennett.

"In your original testimony you said Mr. Dennett was crooked. What did you mean by that?"

"I said I thought from his actions in Seattle he was crooked," corrected Glavis.

"Well, what did he do at Seattle?"

"I made the statement before the committee."

"Well, state it again."

The witness repeated his testimony as to Dennett's visit to Seattle and the "funny letters" he said he heard Dennett was writing. Copies of these letters, which Glavis obtained from Dennett's stenographer, already are in evidence. He said Dennett denied one day knowing Mr. Behrens, one of the lunched together and they appeared to be old friends.

Glavis said he became convinced Dennett was simply the "tool of Ballinger and would do anything Ballinger told him."

"Passing temporarily from Mr. Dennett," said Mr. Vertrees, "let us take up Secretary Ballinger. What constitutes your declaration of improper conduct on his part?"

SUMS UP REASONS.

Glavis proceeded at some length to sum up the reasons which, he declared, convinced him Mr. Ballinger was "unfit for his office and unfaithful to his trust."

He said:

"The first I would cite is the appearance of Mr. Ballinger in the Wilson coal case. While that was a long time ago and people may have looked at things differently, his action or participation in the drawing up of an escrow agreement to turn over claims that should have been proved up and not have been proved up as a matter of fact, was criminal. But the statute of limitations has run and the evidence is not quite clear. The record speaks for itself.

"Another thing was Mr. Ballinger's expressions in the summer of 1907 to support Agent Jones when he knew there had been violation of the coal land laws; his statement that he was coming to Washington to see what Congress could do to help the claimants get patents.

"His next action—one of the most important going to show that he is not loyal to his trust and not faithful to the people—was this:

"After giving me full right and instructions to make a complete investigation of all the coal cases he personally took up an old report by Special Agent Love a few days after and deliberately ordered the Cunningham claims to proceed to patent.

"The Love report, to my mind—and I have acted on a thousand or more reports—did not in itself warrant a favorable recommendation. It showed there had been an understanding among the claimants and suggested fraud rather than a compliance with the law.

AS TO THE CALE BILL.

"Another evidence that Mr. Ballinger was not trying to protect the people's rights, was his appearance before the Public Lands Committee of the House in favor of the Cale bill which carried out the statement Ballinger made to Jones that he would do what he could to obtain legislation which would have enabled these fraudulent claimants to get patents. If the Cale law had passed it would have validated the claims.

"The next step Mr. Ballinger took was his unprofessional action—at least members of the bar regarded it so, and I know of no attorney of my acquaintance who would have done it—in deliberately going around and representing the other side after having been Commissioner of the Land Office and having full knowledge of the character of the investigation he had made. He did not act alone in the Cunningham group, but in the Green group as well, in which he took six affidavits. He also acted as arbitrator between H. R. Harriman and John Hartline relative to the purchase of some coal claims.

ASKS INQUIRY HELD UP.

"His next action consisted in asking me in the fall of 1908 when he was in politics and arranging for campaign contributions, to hold off any investigation of the coal cases. This showed he did not have the interests of the government at heart."

Representative Olmstead: "At this time was Ballinger an officer of the government?"

"No, sir; he was a committee to get contributions for the campaign. Another action which showed him unfaithful was the fact that after hearing at the conference of Mr. Schwartz, Mr. Dennett and myself that there was great necessity of having a construction of the law of May, 1908, and agreeing with us that the matter was of such importance that the Attorney-General should act on it, and after instructing us to prepare a letter to the Attorney-General for him to sign, he deliberately changed his mind for some reason and turned the matter over to a subordinate of his own department.

"None of these are things upon which a criminal charge could be predicated, but to my mind it was far more cowardly for him to do these things than if a man had actually stolen something for which he could have been convicted.

"In July, 1909, when I saw Mr. Ballinger at his office in Seattle and told him we had been ordered to proceed to an immediate hearing, he knew the weaknesses of our case. The greatest weakness was the affidavits he had himself prepared for Cunningham. In spite of this he did not take any action to bring about a postponement of the hearing.

"These statements are all that I can recall that show him unfit for his office, unfaithful to his trust and not loyal to the people."

UPROAR BEGINS.

When Mr. Vertrees began to cross-examine the witness on these accusations, the committee soon got into an uproar.

Glavis complained to the chairman that Mr. Vertrees was cutting off his answers and that he had to make certain explanations.

"Answer the questions as they are asked," directed Senator Root.

Mr. Vertrees reverted to Assistant Secretary Pierce's construction of the law of 1908. Glavis said:

"If it were not rendered under the influence of Mr. Ballinger, his construction of the law showed him unfit for his office. If he did render it under the influence of Mr. Ballinger, it still shows he ought not to be permitted to hold the office he does."

Mr. Vertrees next questioned Glavis as to incidents connected with the turning over of his office to his successor when Glavis was dismissed from the service. Glavis said he had declined to give up some of the papers until he had made copies of them because, he said, he was convinced that "mean and treacherous things might be done."

Mr. Vertrees read a demand that Glavis's successor had made upon him for certain letters that were missing.

Glavis said he turned over all the papers. The ones that were said to be missing, he declared, ought to have been in his office.

READS PUBLISHED LETTERS.

Mr. Vertrees then read some letters published recently in a weekly paper. Glavis said they were included in the list his successor had prepared as missing.

"Didn't you furnish these letters to this paper?" asked the attorney.

"No, sir, I did not."

"Didn't you leave some of your effects in boxes in the grand jury room at Seattle?"

"Yes—some bear skins and camping outfits."

"Now, isn't it a fact that you did furnish these letters to this paper, that you placed all the papers that had been called for by your successor in one of the boxes in the grand jury room, which was broken open on the 8th of this month and the letters and copies found therein?"

That is absolutely false—it is a frame-up," cried Glavis, showing anger for the first time. "Those letters did not hurt me. Why did I want them? They hurt Ballinger."

Glavis was interrupted with a question finish. If I wanted to steal those letters, do you think I would leave them where Federal officers could get them? It makes me indignant to think that government officials, to gain favor with their superiors, would stoop to such a thing."

CROWD APPLAUDS.

The crowd in the courtroom broke into applause. Chairman Nelson said such another demonstration would result in the room being cleared.

Glavis said the letters which appeared in the weekly paper were those of which he had furnished carbon copies to the forest service. He had furnished these copies to the service as a further means of safeguarding the Alaska coal lands.

"When did you first do this to safeguard the Alaska coal lands?"

"After I saw the President at Beverley last September."

The last hour of the afternoon session was taken up with an examination of the witness as to the construction he had placed upon the opinion rendered by Atty.-Gen. Wickersham, after Glavis had protested against the opinion by Assistant Secretary Pierce.

"Didn't you say in an article you wrote in a weekly paper that the Attorney-General overruled Mr. Pierce on every point and sustained you and thus saved the Alaska coal land?" asked Mr. Vertrees.

"Yes," replied Glavis.

"And doesn't the Attorney-General in his report to the President say the memorandum submitted to him, in the preparation of which you assisted, specifically excludes any possible consideration of the Cunningham cases?"

"I was very much surprised that he would make that statement," replied Glavis, "because he had my report on the Cunningham claims before him and one of the questions we submitted to him, I thought, covered the Cunningham class of cases."

The examination was proceeding along this line when adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

ENGINEERS TO GO ON STRIKE.

BUTTE MINES WILL NOT STAY CLOSED, HOWEVER.

Miners' Organization Plans to Call Upon Western Federation to Furnish Men to Take the Places of the Strikers and Keep the Work Moving as Usual.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BUTTE (Mont.) Feb. 14.—Unless there are developments that cannot be foreseen all the mines in the Butte district will be closed down Wednesday morning.

A committee representing the International Engineers' Union No. 138 waited on John Gillit, superintendent of the Almagamated Copper Mining Company, today, conveying the official announcement that the jurisdiction of the union must be recognized and demanding the reinstatement of George Whetstone, an oiler, formerly in the employ of the company at the Neversweat mine. The committee in its ultimatum also claimed jurisdiction over the pumpmen, compressor men, firemen and oilers as well as hoisting engineers.

The Butte Miners Union will discuss the situation at their regular meeting tomorrow night. Officers of the union when seen today stated that the Western Federation of Miners could and would furnish engineers to operate the mine and if they are able to do so a long shut down may be avoided. The miners say they will bring engineers into Butte if necessary and that many of the members of the International Union will stand by Engineers' Union No. 133 and decline to go out.

JUDGE PHILLIPS WILL RETIRE.

Announces Departure from Federal Bench Following Demand That He Be Impeached by Congress.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 14.—Judge Phillips of the United States Court for the Western Missouri District announced today that he would retire voluntarily from the Federal bench on June 25 of this year.

In the last regular session of Congress a resolution was introduced by Congressman Murphy of the Sixteenth Missouri district, demanding that Judge Phillips be impeached. The resolution was referred to a committee.

BAD OUTLOOK FOR DR. BURKE.

Dynamite Traced to Sanatorium Owner.

Miner Says He Obtained Explosives from Him.

Also Took Lessons in Handling Stuff.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OROVILLE, Feb. 14.—Evidence of a startling nature, which, it is alleged, tends to connect Dr. Willard P. Burke, the aged and patriarchal appearing osteopathic physician of Santa Rosa, with the attempt to blow up Luella Smith and her child, at his health sanatorium, a charge upon which he is under arrest, is said to have been obtained here today.

According to a statement made tonight by Sheriff Chubbuck, of Bute county, Dist.-Aty. Lea of Santa Rosa, accompanied by Sheriff Smith of Sonoma county, and a stenographer, who arrived here today and went direct to some mines near Oroville, owned by Dr. Burke, obtained depositions tonight that Dr. Burke came to the mines on December 20 last and secured six sticks of dynamite and three fuses with caps attached, from Thomas Riley, a miner employed there.

Dr. Burke, according to Sheriff Chubbuck obtained the dynamite from Riley upon the declaration that he desired to blast out some stumps on the ground where his sanatorium is located.

Riley, said the Sheriff, told him that Dr. Burke asked him many questions regarding the use of the explosives and how to attach the fuse and caps.

Dr. Burke was not satisfied until Riley had demonstrated to him how to use the dynamite by preparing and exploding a charge. Riley, declared Sheriff Chubbuck, asserted Dr. Burke carried the dynamite, fuse and caps away with him.

Burke returned to he mines on February 1 and on that occasion is alleged to have stated that he had been successful in using the dynamite and had blown up the stump for which he intended it. The explosion at Burke's sanatorium occurred on February 5.

The disappearance of Jack Mullen, an employé, from Burke's mines the day before the explosion in which the Smith woman and her child were blown out of the tent house, and his return the day after, was investigated by the authorities. Mullen, however, established an alibi.

Dist.-Atty. Lea and Sheriff Smith will return from Burke's mines tomorrow morning.

DR. BURKE UNPERTURBED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SANTA ROSA (Cal.) Feb. 14.—That new and important evidence has been obtained by the District Attorney's office upon which another arrest may soon be made in the case of Dr. Willard P. Burke, charged with attempting to kill Luella Smith and her baby, at Burke's sanatorium, by placing an explosive under her tent house, was the statement made tonight by Assistant District-Attorney George W. Hoyle. What the nature of the new evidence is, and whom it implicates, Hoyle refused to disclose.

While many of his patients and friends are agitating over the outcome of the mysterious explosion at the sanatorium, outwardly Dr. Burke seems little perturbed. His long flowing beard gives him a patriarchal and benign appearance. He has constantly refused to say anything regarding the statement by Miss Smith that he is the father of her child, or discuss any of the peculiar aspects of the case, but smilingly asserts "all will be well."

It is rather a peculiar colony of health seekers at Burke's sanatorium, with a tendency to mix "new thought," "higher life," "spirituality" with "mechano-therapy" electric treatments and dietary rules that incline toward vegetarianism.

Among many of his people, Dr. Burke is regarded as a fatherly old man of unusual intelligence and spirituality.

Use of Kerosine to Kindle Fire Causes Death of Wealthy Merchant and Wife.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGER (N. M.) Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The invalid and helpless wife of John Rivet, a wealthy merchant, was cremated alive in her bed, and her husband was so badly burned that he died a short time later. Rivert arose about 8 o'clock and found the fire in the coal heater almost out. He threw in a half bucket of coal and began then pouring oil over the coal. The can exploded, showering blazing coal oil over Rivet and setting the house on fire.

HERMANN JURORS ANGERED BY MEMBER WHO WILL NOT AGREE.

DISAGREEMENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] So angry at what they termed Juror George Selkirk's stubbornness that they refused to shake hands with him at parting, several of the Hermann jury dispersed today, without even bidding Selkirk good-by.

It was Selkirk's belief in Hermann's innocence and that alone which averted a verdict of guilty. All the other jurors have declared they believed him guilty from the start, although several cast what they termed "complimentary" ballots for acquittal at various times. All settled down to voting guilty steadily except Selkirk. It is recalled that when undergoing examination for qualification as a juror, Selkirk confessed he had an opinion on the case. He declared that it would not prejudice his action, and Heney accepted him.

JURY DISAGREES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 14.—The jury in the case of Binger Hermann, ex-Commissioner of the General Land Office and former Congressman from Oregon, who was indicted and tried for conspiracy to defraud the United States of a portion of the public domain, reported at 9:30 o'clock this morning that it was unable to agree, and was discharged.

The jury had been out since 11:05 o'clock on Saturday morning. Prior to this morning the jurors appeared in court twice to ask for the rereading of the instructions on several points. This morning, shortly after 9 o'clock, the jury was summoned into court. Asked by the court if they had reached an agreement, Foreman Meyers replied in the negative and volunteered the information that the majority of the jurors believed that it would be impossible for them to come to an agreement, even if additional time was allowed.

Juror Selkirk here asked if it were permissible for a single juror to ask for additional instructions. Upon being advised that he would be permitted to submit a request for additional information, the juror handed in his question. Court and counsel retired to consult, and upon his return to the bench the court announced that there was no hope of an agreement being reached and discharged the jury from further duty.

WANTS NEW TRIAL SOON.

Heney, prosecutor for the government, immediately moved that the case be reset for trial and suggested February 28 as the date.

John M. Gearing, associate counsel for the defense, stated that Col. B. S. Worthington of Washington had been compelled to go to that city, and that it would be impossible for him to return at such an early date. Counsel then agreed to leave the date for the reopening of the case open, with the understanding that it would be at an early date, to be agreed upon later.

After adjournment, Heney stated that he would remain in Portland for some time and that before he left the city the disposition of all other land frauds cases, known as the "Heney indictments," would be agreed upon, and volunteered the further information that he probably would try some of the cases himself.

THIRTEEN BALLOTS TAKEN.

Members of the jury stated after the trial that thirteen ballots in all were taken. The first eleven ballots showed eight to four for conviction. On the twelfth ballot the forces for conviction gained two more votes and on the final ballot another juror went over to the majority.

Three of the four men who voted for acquittal told their fellow jurors that their votes were "complimentary to Hermann." Just what was meant or what significance the term implied could not be learned. This feature of the deliberations at first created considerable amusement among the jurors but as time went on and the three "complimentaries" for Hermann showed up in the voting, the seriousness of the situation began to manifest itself among the jurors, and at last, in answer to the appeals and arguments of the majority, the votes finally switched to 11 to 1.

DISTRUSTED HIS OWN AIDES.

GRAND JURY IS TOLD HOW BURNS'S GUMSHOE MEN WORK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The members of the grand jury today heard in detail the intricacies of the operations of W. J. Burns's staff of detectives and gumshoe men, and the marvelous system of double-crossing and espionage that was practiced upon those who comprised the staff. They also heard in detail the suspicions entertained by the gumshoe chief against practically every one in his service.

The story was related by J. G. Lawlor, formerly a trusted member of the staff of the great detective. Lawlor was summoned to appear before the inquisitors to explain his refusal to testify for the prosecution in the Calhoun trial. He was one of the most important witnesses in previous trials, but notified Dist.-Atty. Fickert Saturday he could not conscientiously appear again in behalf of the State.

Lawlor ascertained that Burns prepared a bribe to tempt him. In view of this discovery, he says, he believes other alleged bribes supposed to have emanated from Calhoun sources were also prepared and offered by Burns. Having arrived at this conclusion, he says, he will not testify in the coming trial unless "commanded by the court to do so."

"I have discovered Burns laid a trap for me, and offered me a bribe that I believed to have come from the other side," he said today. "I was led to believe that Harry Wilbur was in the employ of the Calhoun people, when in reality he was working for Burns. Wilbur sent me an offer of $300 if I would bring him copies of a number of reports on jurors that were in Burns's office. I met him and then told Burns about the offer."

Bigr Freighter Cuts in Two Launch Filled With Gay Young Folk, One Dead.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With a song rippling from their lips, and no thought of impending danger, a party of young men and women aboard the launch Arrow, was run down late last night by the British freight steamer Celtic, outward boud from Tacoma for Vancouver.

Arthur Norman Fuhr, aged 23, was drowned. Six other members of the party escaped with a severe wetting and bad scare.

The accident happened six miles from the Tacoma docks. The Arrow was struck squarely on the port side, taking in a large quantity of water. At the same time she was bent like a straw, the steamship carrying the wrecked boat for some distance on her prow.

Clinton Harris, captain, and Claude Harris, engineer of the launch, showed much presence of mind by assisting the young women to a position on the top of the launch until the steamer's lifeboat could pick them up.

Young Fuhr was sitting on the side opposite the direction from which the steamer came. He probably saw the danger and jumped. Had he stayed aboard he would have been saved. Today his father and brother searched unsuccessfully for his body.

STILL BAR SMOKERS.

ORDINANCE IS NOT REPEALED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The measure introduced by Supervisor Hocks before the board, calling for the repeal of the existing ordinance prohibiting the burning of tobacco on the inside or the front platform of any inclosed street railway car, went down to defeat today.

There was free expression of opinion over the matter before the resolution of repeal, and the proposition of smoking in the compartment set aside for such purpose, and on both platforms was defeated. Hocks only had one Supervisor to stand with him. That was Healy.

Pinhead McCarthy suggested that smokers could be confined to their compartment, where sensitive women and children would not be offended with smoke fumes, but it was not heeded.

Supervisor Hayden, however, who was strong against inside smoking, came to the rescue of the smoker by offering this amendment to the present law: "That smoking be prohibited only inside of cars, thereby leaving the front platform to the smoker, as well as the rear."

The amendment was referred to the Hospital and Health Committee.

Ortis Hamilton, Who Spent State's Money on Woman, Must Settle for Dismissal of Appeal.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It will cost Ortis Hamilton, former Adjutant-General of the Washington National Guard, $5 cash to permit himself to be sent to the penitentiary according to today's ruling of the pupils but teachers as well. It fairly takes the life out of children. Hyatt's plan is to give the students a good quizzing on one of the closing days of the term and next day take them all out for a picnic.

Mrs. Beatrice Gadsby Sues Husband for Increased Allowance and $1000 to Secure Divorce.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In an application for an increase of allowance from $62 to $200 monthly, Mrs. Beatrice Gadsby, who is suing her husband, Walter Gadsby, for divorce here, today declared the Gadsbys are millionaires and that the sum she is now getting for the support of herself and child is a pittance.

"The business of William Gadsby & Sons is worth nearly a million dollars," Mrs. Gadsby declares in her petition, "and Walter Gadsby is a full partner therein. His father, Capt. Gadsby, possesses other property valued at more than a million dollars and his two sons are his only heirs.

"My husband abandoned me without cause after a long course of cruel treatment instigated by his parents. I ask that he be required to pay me $200 monthly and that he be also required to pay me $1000 wherewith to prosecute my divorce suit."

Mrs. Walter Gadsby already has obtained a verdict against her parents-in-law for $10,000 damages for having alienated her husband's affections. Capt. Gadsby is a wealthy and prominent merchant.

WESTON AT SELIGMAN.

SELIGMAN (Ariz.) Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Edward Payson Weston arrived at Seligman this morning, at 6:25 o'clock, on his journey across the continent and after a moderate breakfast at the Harvey House, resumed his walk at 7:25 a.m. Mr. Weston is certainly looking well and claims to be in best of condition, considerably ahead of schedule, notwithstanding the short delay leaving Hackberry on account of the wrecking of his motor car, and the possibility of further delay by high winds over the mountains.

Negro Soldiers Not Guilty.

SEATTLE, Feb. 14.—That the man who attacked Mrs. C. E. Alzada late Friday night was not a member of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, the colored regiment stationed at Fort Lawton, was proved tonight when the twenty men who were absent from the post at that time were paraded before the woman. Mrs. Alzada carefully scrutinized each of the negro soldiers, and said that none of them was the man who made the attack upon her.

A GOOD TONIC

Sometimes Necessary to Restore Lost Strength and Health.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Are the Best and Safest Tonic as Is Shown by This California Woman's Experience.

Whenever the blood becomes thin and watery or impure the whole system suffers, energy is lacking, vitality is low and the victim falls an easy prey to any disease which happens to be prevalent, such as the grip or acute fevers.

To keep the system in normal condition, the appetite good, the step vigorous, the brain clear and the muscles strong, a tonic is sometimes necessary. With the body thus toned up and the organs active there is a greatly reduced danger from prevalent diseases since the germs are overcome and passed off as nature intended they should be.

The tonic used should be efficacious and at the same time safe and harmless for the weakest constitution. Such a remedy is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The tonic effect of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is well shown in the following statement of Mrs. Mary Wilder, of No. 1884 India street, San Diego, Cal.:

"I have found Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to be the best tonic I have ever tried. For several years I was always run down during the spring months and was subject to attacks of the grip. I would be completely exhausted and hardly able to do any work. Every muscle in my body would ache. I had no appetite and it seemed that I could find nothing that would strengthen me.

"A friend told me about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I began using them. Before I had taken the first box I felt better. I kept on taking them and gained in strength until I was cured."

The tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills by building up the blood so that it can nourish and strengthen the weakened system has made hundreds of cures in the most severe disorders. This record of cures should merit a trial for the remedy which is guaranteed free from opiates and is entirely harmless.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

State School Supt. Hyatt Says Breezy Oral Quizzes Better Than Long Written Grind.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] State Superintendent of Public Instruction Hyatt is opposed to a long period of examinations at the close of the school year, according to an opinion forwarded to school teachers throughout the State today. In place of this hard mental grind, he recommends a breezy oral test, lasting for a few hours, in which each child can be tested sufficiently to judge whether or not he or she is up to the requirements for promotion.

SCOLDED BOY A SUICIDE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—"Good night, mother. God bless you. Good-bye." Eighteen-year-old John V. Ploskett, a student at the Albert Lane Technical high school, said this to his mother early yesterday morning, after he had been reprimanded for staying out late. Only a few hours later he was found dead in his room, by his 8-year-old brother, who had been sent to awaken him for breakfast. The elder boy had committed suicide by shooting himself in the mouth with a 22-caliber rifle. "John came home early in the morning, having been out with several friends and, as I was worried, I scolded him. He was a good boy," said Mrs. Ploskett in telling her story to the police.

Crude Oil Used to Hurry Fire Causes Death of Four and Fatal Injury of Two.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LOVELL (Wyo.) Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Vick Showalter, wife of a ranchman, and three of her children were burned to death today, and her husband and eldest daughter were so terribly injured that they will probably die. Mrs. Showalter arose at 5 o'clock and started a fire in the cook stove, using crude oil to hurry matters. An explosion followed, showering everybody and everything in the room with burning oil.

Showalter and his eldest daughter were the only members of the family who managed to get out of the building.

Mrs. Showalter and the other three children inhaled the flames and collapsed almost immediately.

Wyoming, Crawford of South Dakota, Borah and Heyburn of Idaho, Fraser and Clay, were answered by Senator Beveridge, who has the bill in charge, until his voice gave way under a severe cold.

Consideration of the bill was then postponed.

Senator Clark took exception to the power given to the proposed council to repeal laws enacted by Congress; Senator Clay to the control of public lands vested in the Council, and Senator Heyburn to the appointment of an army officer as a member of the council.

Replying, Mr. Beveridge said that local legislators would understand conditions in the territory better than Congress possibly could and that the President had reached the same conclusion.

CUPID IN WHITE HOUSE.

MRS. TAFT'S SECRETARY TO WED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—A change in secretaries is soon to mark Mrs. Taft's wing of the White House. Cupid has created the prospective vacancy there and this will occur soon after Easter, when Lieut. Richard Wainwright, Jr., of the navy, leads to the altar Miss Augusta Bleich, who has filled the position of private secretary to the wife of the President.

Miss Mary D. Spiers, of this city, has been selected as Miss Bleich's successor.

WANTS APPROPRIATION,

To Sprinkle Yosemite Park.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Secretary of the Treasury transmitted to Congress today Secretary Ballinger's recommendation that $64,500 be appropriated for a sprinkling system for roads, installing a water distributing system, and appraising private land holdings in Yosemite Park.

Confirms Postmistress.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Catalina Loughrey has been confirmed as postmistress at Darwin, Inyo county, having filed a satisfactory bond.

BEER TAKES PLACE OF SAKE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Beer is apparently taking the place of sake as a drink among the Japanese, according to figures furnished the Department of Commerce and Labor by E. G. Babbitt, American Vice-Consul-General at Yokohama. In Tokio the consumption of sake has decreased in the last ten years about 25 per cent. Beer, on the other hand, says Mr. Babbitt, the brewing of which in Japan dates back only twenty years, can be found throughout the empire, and the output of the breweries not only supplies home demand, but leaves considerable quantities for export.

Conditions Interfere During January.

[DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Reports of roads have now for the entire month of January. The returns show that the satisfactory averages of the month have been well and gross earnings for fifteen roads reporting for the month being $27,197,189, a gain of 8.68, over the earnings of the month in the corresponding year.

Every road contributes to the gain, and on some it is very large. The Chesapeake and Ohio, the Nashville, Southern and Railway in the South, and the Northwest, the Pacific and Texas and Pacific roads that have reported favorable returns, although they are not quite so pronounced in the South and West. Unfavorable traffic has been influenced by weather conditions to a greater extent than last month, but makes still more remarkable the progress that has been made in the months as compared with last year.

ROUTE PLANS TO STRUCT ROAD.

Completion / Rebuilding of the Meadow Valley That Trains Can Be Los Angeles Until Pro- Can Be Decided.

[DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Nothing definite is yet concerning the new Salt Lake route around Owens lake, there is a report that the manager is tracks through the possible to get out other material still in the hands of the contractors. It is given rise to the statement that the road will be completed in time for the heavy spring business. The line over which the Los Angeles Limited runs through to Los Angeles by a shorter route is done. Upward of a million dollars will be spent to enable the road to handle the summer freight and passenger business, an important factor, as the new line could be built for less than railroad officials say, and over the new route will be started.

J. Ross Clark and Senator Wolfe were in consultation with President W. H. Holmes of the Harriman lines of the Harriman lines Sunday evening, but nothing definite, and it is understood was reached. Mr. Holmes left Salt Lake today to inspect the cut-off and there was no doubt expected that they will hold another meeting shortly to definite decision upon the question of the new route and possibly for some time.

Holmes says: "We are going to build a better route before deciding to say just which route it will be."

Work of building a road along the Morgan range, the engineers have just come to understood, be heavy, and bridge a good route, considerable, and easy grades.

Rumored High Artillery Officials Sell Contents of State Papers to Japan.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COPENHAGEN (Denmark) Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to a private dispatch received here from St. Petersburg, a scandal has been unearthed in the Imperial Artillery administration.

The charge is that the Japanese were kept closely informed as to the contents of important documents of value to them. The reason was unveiled by a commission appointed at the suggestion of Senator Garin.

The guilty persons are not poorly paid officers, but persons of high standing in the commercial and industrial world, who were interested in the contents of the documents.

TROUBLE.

AN ANNEXATION COMPLICATION.

BOARD OF EDUCATION HEARS WILMINGTON'S WAIL.

Committee Protests Because Children Are Obliged to Attend Manual Training School at San Pedro. Matter Is for County to Solve. Changes in Plans for Buildings.

The meeting of the Board of Education was enlivened last evening by the presence of a committee of protest from Wilmington, whose grievance was the fact that children from that city were compelled to attend the manual training school at San Pedro. Wilmington does not love San Pedro, and as the chairman of the protesting committee, W. T. Woods, emphatically stated, for the enterprising little seaport to be beholden to her hated rival for educational privileges is as gall and wormwood.

Mr. Woods dramatically reminded the board that when Los Angeles wooed Wilmington, she promised autonomy in all essentials, and Wilmington considered the matter of having a high school a decided essential.

After some lively if half-joking threats of breach-of-promise proceedings, and the statement from Wilmington that she would prefer to go without the higher education rather than take it at the hands of San Pedro, the matter was sifted down to an understanding of the true situation, and the fact revealed that Los Angeles is not to blame, since it is the law that where there are union high schools, and where consolidation occurs, the schools remaining outside the consolidated district retain the moneys which have been appropriated for high school; therefore, it seems that the Cerritos district, which was left out of the consolidation, holds the Union High School funds.

It was suggested by President Scott that a solution of the difficulty would be for the Wilmington committee to turn its eloquence toward that district with a view to annexing it to Wilmington. It seems, however, that Cerritos entertains toward Wilmington something of the same sentiment as that harbored by Wilmington for San Pedro, and if she annexes to any place, it will be as far away from Wilmington as possible—Long Beach, in all probability.

Upon finding that, after all the talk, the matter belonged before the county, the undaunted committee begged, as a favor, that the board at least appoint a committee from its body with whom Wilmington could confer as to how best to proceed.

Requests were presented by the W. C.T.U. for permission to give to the schools a series of lectures upon the injurious effects of cigarettes; by an individual who wished to give lectures upon the economic value of birds and the humane treatment of animals; by some one who wanted to talk to the schools upon the prevention of tuberculosis; all of which matters were referred to the various committees whose province it is to pass upon such things. A member jocularly suggested that there are so many subjects already before the students that there is little time for the three R's; and another proposed a special department for the presentation of all the various subjects which come up.

The resignation of Ernest J. Lickley, director of compulsory education, was accepted, to take effect the 28th inst., and Sydney V. Good was recommended to fill the place. Mr. Lickley resigns to engage in commercial college teaching.

The recommendation of the superintendent that in order to push the development of the Gardena Agricultural High School as fast as possible, a farmer be employed there, and farm implements be purchased, was referred to the Committee of Finance.

The school to be built at Vermont avenue and Forty-second street was officially designated as the Manual Arts High School. It has developed, in connection with the plans for this school, that the widening of Forty-second street will cut into the building about five feet, so that it was decided to slightly revise the plans, crowding the buildings more closely, which can easily be done by shortening certain corridors. The matter was referred to the Building Committee, with power to act.

Bids for the Polytechnic, upon the revised plans, which will call for two-story buildings instead of four, will be called for the 24th inst.

It is understood that Los Angeles High School will undoubtedly have its promised appropriation of $25,000 for additions and improvements; probably partially from the bond moneys, and partly from the regular building fund.

BANK OF FRANCE TO RESCUE.

Institution Will Advance $20,000,000 Without Interest to Help Industrial Concerns Suffering from Flood.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS (France) Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The action of the Bank of France in consenting to advance $20,000,000 without interest for five years to small commercial and industrial concerns ruined by the floods is a unique feature of the relief work which, it is asserted, was never before connected with any big national disaster.

Parts of Paris and the country in which the ravages of the flood were felt most were full of small factories and shops, the majority of which not only were put out of business by the inundation but were left without means to start again.

The details of the scheme, which the Bank of France and the Minister of Finance arranged together, show a solidarity between the banking interests and the government, unequaled in any other country. To protect the Bank of France against loss, a guaranty fund has been formed to which contributions are made by the state and the City of Paris departments. Of the sums which the banks have undertaken to provide one-half already has been subscribed and it is only a question of a few days when

DOOR SWINGS FOR VISITORS.

Azusa Citizens Are Royal Entertainers.

Opening of Foothill Inn Is Marked by Banquet.

Neighboring Cities Join in Celebration.

On St. Valentine's Day, when the world exchanges friendly greetings, Azusa threw wide its doors to neighboring cities and towns of Los Angeles county, entertaining its guests at a splendid banquet. The doors of Azusa's hospitality last night were literally those of the beautiful, new Foothill Inn, which stands as a monument to the enterprise and cooperation of the citizens.

The people of Azusa became convinced some time ago that they needed a fitting hostelry in which to entertain the many visitors coming to view the beauties of the locality. Instead of sitting idly by and wondering why some one did not come to build this hotel, they got together and planned the Foothill Inn, which was so auspiciously opened last night.

There were guests from many nearby towns. Los Angeles was represented by ex-Judge Charles Silent and Frank Wiggins. President J. L. Mathews and Secretary Wells were there from the Covina Board of Trade. President C. H. Converse of the Glendora Board of Trade spoke on "The Sisterhood of Our Cities." Messrs. Barry and Evans of the Monrovia Board of Trade represented that city.

ELABORATE FEAST.

An elaborate banquet was served in the spacious dining-room of the hotel. The decorations were in keeping with the day, hearts of crimson flowers being suspended from the ceiling above the tables.

"Hospitality Sitting With Gladness" was the text of the evening, and it was well illuminated by the programme that had been provided.

The Rev. Charles F. Richardson proved an apt and enterprising toastmaster. The Rev. John M. Nelson nounced an invocation. Dr. H. M. Coulter, president of the Chamber of Commerce, delivered the address of welcome. Pride, philanthropy and patriotism, he said, were responsible for the occasion and he proposed a tiger for the three.

The programme of toasts included "Greater Los Angeles," by John Siauson; "Our Future," by Ex-Judge Silent; "The City Beautiful," by A. P. Griffith; "The Azusa Woman's Club," by Mrs. J. H. Anderson; "The Telephone as a Centralising Agency," by J. L. Matthews.

George F. Tilton is manager of the new Foothill Inn and the hotel offers every promise of adding to the attractions of Southern California, as well as to the charms of Azusa in particular. The interior is decorated in the best of taste and effective ideas in architecture and gardening are being carried out in the exterior.

COMMITTEES IN CHARGE.

The committees in charge of the evening's celebration were: Finance and Tickets, A. G. Owen, J. R. Eldred; Decorations, Prof. E. S. Solomon, Mrs. George F. Tilton; Entertainment and Menu, George F. Tilton, C. C. Condit, Ward A. Stevens; Printing, Prof. A. M. Brown, J. W. Rice, Dr. E. E. Helsby; Programme, A. P. Griffith, Mrs. H. M. Coulter; Reception, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Stewart, Mrs. E. P. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lindley, Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Greever, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Calvert, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Anderson, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Bowers.

The dinner was not concluded until 11 o'clock and the guests from neighboring towns and cities had an opportunity to enjoy the hospitality of the Inn to the full extent, many remaining over night.

It was an event that lent new impetus to the progress Azusa has been making since the coming of the trolley car brought it into suburban relations with other centers of Southern California enterprise.

MASK OF MYSTERY PIERCED.

Sheriff of Santa Cruz Wants Man Arrested on Fictitious Check Charge and Will Get Him.

Sheriff Stratton of Santa Cruz has penetrated the mask of mystery behind which J. E. Adler hid after his arrest ten days ago, when the dashing young man was snatched from gay company in an automobile by two detectives from headquarters. Sheriff Stratton has wired the local officers that Adler is not Adler at all, but a man by the name of Cohen, who occasionally disports the alias of Bauers. Further than that, the Sheriff longs for the company of Cohen-Bauers-Adler so much that arrangements have been made to dismiss the case of Brauer & Krohn against the prisoner Thursday and turn him over to the Santa Cruz official, who telegraphed that they have a felony warrant for him.

The prisoner was arrested near the Lankershim Hotel as he passed in an automobile with some young women. He was wanted for passing a fictitious check on Brauer & Krohn in payment for a suit of clothes, and for trying to pass fictitious checks of large amounts on other merchants.

When he arrived in Los Angeles a few weeks ago, the young man seems to have created a little credit for himself by depositing $25 with a trust company. On the strength of this deposit, he made several small purchases, for which he paid with checks that were immediately honored. He is then alleged to have "stung" the tailoring concern for a suit of clothes, and tried to fleece diamond dealers out of valuable stones, beside getting into trouble with various automobile renters. After his arrest, the young man maintained a dogged silence. Sheriff Stratton will send for the prisoner.

ROBBED OF WEEK'S WAGES.

Laborer Reports Hold-up by Two Strong-Arm Men—Dazed by Fall to Ground.

E. Franco of No. 431 Bauchet street, reported to the police last night that he had been robbed of his week's pay by two strong-arm men who met him at Macy and Alameda streets. Franco works for a paving contractor, and was given his pay check last night. He had $15 in gold in his hip pocket when the footpads walked up behind him. One threw an arm around Franco's throat, pinioning him, while the other went through his pockets, to the ground so hard that he was dazed for some time.

The robbery is believed to have been the work of the same men who held up Frank Garrett, a 90-year-old man, at the end of the Main street bridge about a week ago.

COMMISSION PLAN.

Charter Body to Be Authorized at the Session of the City Council Today.

A new charter commission for Los Angeles will be proposed in a report of the Council Committee on Legislation at the meeting today. The committee, acting on that portion of the message of the Mayor urging such a step, will recommend the appointment of a committee of seven members, or possibly nine, to arrange the preliminary work before a freeholders' committee is chosen.

The step will be the beginning of the plan of the Goo-Goo party to impose the commission system of government in Los Angeles. Not all the members of the Council agree with this, but it is understood the committee is not to include only protagonists of this system, but others.

After the Council acts on the report it is the purpose to delay naming the commission for a week or two.

CHILD'S ESCAPE A WONDER.

James E., the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Eaves, No. 1729 Roosevelt avenue, had a wonderful escape from death or serious injury last night. While playing on a bed in the second story of the house the child pushed out the wire screen and fell to the cement driveway, about twenty feet. It chanced that the screen, which dropped also, struck on the curbing and one side remained raised, so that the child dropped into it as into a basket, and was practically unscratched.

GRAFT TRIAL BEGINS.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 14.—The trials of County Delinquent Tax Collector Max G. Leslie, Banker E. H. Jennings and F. A. Griffen, Capitalist F. F. Nicola and former Councilman Charles Stewart, each charged with conspiracy and bribery, were begun today in the criminal court. The trials are the outcome of accusations against the five men that bribery was employed in the selection, by councils, of a city depository in 1908.

THE STORY OF THE PEANUT SHELLS.

As everyone knows, C. W. Post of Battle Creek, Michigan, is not only a maker of breakfast foods, but he is a strong individualist who believes that the trades-unions are a menace to the liberty of the country.

Believing this, and being a "natural-born" scrapper for the right, as he sees it, Post, for several years past, has been engaged in a ceaseless warfare against "the Labor Trust," as he likes to call it.

Not being able to secure free and untrammeled expression of his opinions on this subject through the regular reading pages of the newspapers he has bought advertising space for this purpose, just as he is accustomed to for the telling of his Postum "story," and he has thus spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in denouncing trades-unionism.

As a result of Post's activities the people now know a whole lot about these organizations: how they are honeycombed with graft, how they obstruct the development of legitimate business, curtail labor's output, hold up manufacturers, graft upon their own membership, and rob the public. Naturally Post is hated by the trades-unionists, and intensely.

He employs no union labor, so they can not call out his men, and he defies their efforts at boycotting his products. The latest means of "getting" Post is the widespread publication of the story that a car which was recently wrecked in transmission was found to be loaded with empty peanut shells, which were being shipped from the south to Post's establishment at Battle Creek.

This canard probably originated with President John Fitzgerald of the Chicago Federation of Labor, who, it is said, stated it publicly, as truth.

Post comes back and gives Fitzgerald the lie direct. He denounces Fitzgerald's statement as a deliberate falsehood, an underhanded and cowardly attempt to injure his business, having not the slightest basis in fact. As such an effort it must be regarded. It is significant that this statement about "the peanut shells" is being given wide newspaper publicity. In the "patent inside" of an eastern country paper I find it, and the inference naturally is that labor-unionites are insidiously spreading this lie:

An institution (or a man) which will resort to moral intimidation and to physical force, that will destroy machinery and burn buildings, that will maim and kill if necessary to effect its ends, naturally would not hesitate to spread falsehood for the same purposes.

We admire Post. While we have no enmity toward labor unions, so long as they are conducted in an honest, "live-and-let-live" kind of a way, we have had enough of the tarred end of the stick to sympathize thoroughly with what he is trying to do. He deserves support. A man like Post can not be killed, even with lies. They are a boomerang, every time. Again we know, for hasn't this weapon, every weapon that could be thought of, been used (and not simply by labor unions) to put us out of business, too.

I am going to drink two cups of Postum every morning from this time on, and put myself on a diet of Grape-Nuts. Bully for Post! —Editorial in The American Journal of Clinical Driscoll Beats Hayes.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—Jem Driscoll tonight defeated Seaman Hayes for the featherweight championship of England, and a purse of $5000, before the National Sporting club. Driscoll soon had Hayes at his mercy and the referee stopped the contest in the sixth round to avoid a useless knockout. The twenty-round bout between Digger Stanley, the bantam champion of England, and young Pierce, an American negro, ended in a draw.

Forbes Beats Coster.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the wind-up at the Ford Athletic Club, Brooklyn, tonight, Harry Forbes knocked out Kid Coster. Coster forced most of the fighting, but in the seventh round Forbes landed several right-handed uppercuts, and finally working in a right arm swing, knocked Coster out for the count.

Offers More Money.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 14.—In order to make the stake events to be run at Latonia more attractive, the stake features will be increased. The Derby, which has been the feature race of the Latonia spring meeting for many years, will be increased from $2500 to $4000.

Brown Shades Thomas.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Knockout Brown shaded Harry Thomas, the English featherweight, in their ten-round bout at the Olympic Athletic Club tonight. Brown fought well and, for that matter, so did Thomas, but the latter was tiring toward the end.

Langford at Cheyenne.

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Feb. 14.—Sam Langford, who arrived here today, will sign articles tonight for a twenty-round battle with Nat Dewey, the Cheyenne colored heavyweight to take place before the Cheyenne Eagles, February 22.

FAITHFUL REMEMBERED.

Perpetual Memorial Cup in Honor of Charles Richardson Is Given to U.S.C. Students.

A perpetual cup has been given to the student body of the University of Southern California as a memorial of Charles Kellogg Richardson, the popular Methodist athlete who was drowned at Hueneme during the summer of 1908.

Each year the name of the athlete making the greatest number of points in intercollegiate track meets is to be engraved on the cup. The name of Grant Richardson, a cousin of Charles Richardson, who won the honor last year, is to be the first on the trophy.

The idea of commemorating the memory of the famous athlete was suggested shortly after the death of Richardson, and was taken up by the athletic board, and finally provided through the offices of Manager Tom Clay.

RABBIT HARRIERS.

GREENWICH (Ct.) Feb. 14.—William G. Rockefeller, whose hobby for years has been the breeding and training of beagles, has retired from the sport, selling his dogs, which are housed in an $80,000 group of kennels here, said to be the finest in the country. During the last ten years Mr. Rockefeller has spent about $250,000 on his hobby. His dogs have won hundreds of blue ribbons.

FAILED TO GET FALL.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Zbyszko won a handicap wrestling match from Yousiff Mahmout tonight when the latter failed to get a fall in one hour. According to the terms of the match Mahmout was to throw Zbyszko twice in sixty minutes or forfeit the purse and side bet.

Strike-Out Range.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 14.—Manager Clark Griffith has let a contract for a pitchers' target to be used by his twirlers at Hot Springs. It is a sort of shooting gallery with moving swings, in which two discs hang from wires and are made to swing. The pitcher takes his stand at the regulation distance and tries to hit the spot on the target. An arrangement has been perfected whereby the balls will roll back to the pitchers. He says he will have a scorer watch the men and make a daily report showing the number of "strikes" and "balls."

Western League.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Representatives of the clubs of the Western League began gathering here today for the schedule meeting which will be held Wednesday.

BISHOP CALLS ON PRESIDENT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Cortlandt Field Bishop, president of the Aëro Club of America, accompanied by a committee representing the Washington and Baltimore aëronautical societies, called on the President today to urge him to recommend to Congress for appropriations with which to equip the army with aëroplanes.

The President regretted that because of the necessity for strict economy, it would not be possible for him to urge this project upon Congress during the present session, but he thought something might be done in that direction at the next session.

LICENSED SHOW.

FINE MOTORS IN GAY ARRAY.

Fiesta Park to House Ten Score of Cars.

Green Forest in Place for Motordom's Best.

Conwell and Committee Are Hustling to Finish.

Girls and boys of Los Angeles are to have an opportunity to visit the Licensed Automobile Show on Tuesday afternoon of next week from noon until 6 o'clock. The young people will be given every chance to examine the cars. The Show Committee at a meeting held last night at Manager Conwell's office decided to give the youngsters a chance.

Great interest is being manifested in the plans for the big exhibit and already a monster crowd seems assured. The show is certain to eclipse anything ever held in the West, as it will be larger than any show of the kind ever planned. The immense floor area is to be entirely occupied and there will not be an inch of vacant space.

There is not an exhibitor who is not planning to show from three to fifteen cars on the floor. This means that there will be at least 200 different models. With all these cars grouped on the floor of Fiesta Park the showing should be greater than at the Madison Square Garden show which was a national affair.

Money is being expended lavishly. Fiesta Park has proved costly but the committee is prepared to spend much more in order to make the show the biggest ever. It will cost $30,000 to put the cars on the floor of Fiesta Park with the setting the committee has planned. Of this the dealers will receive a percentage as rebates.

Should the throng exceed 50,000 the committee will come out more than even. It is expected that this number will be reached and possibly passed. The show will be open for seven days but there will be no chance to visit the exhibit on Sunday. Fiesta Park will be dark for one day following the opening.

On next Saturday night the show will open. Everything is to be in readiness by the latest, Friday noon. This means that the throng of men now at work at Fiesta must labor almost night and day to prepare the handsome setting.

SOME IDEA.

With the canvas all in place and most of the scenes which are to form the sides of the inclosure in position an idea can be had of what Fiesta Park is going to look like during the big show. The last of the giant redwood trees was finished last night and the effect is more than pleasing. When the committee first looked at the vast interior some of the members were dubious. It seemed the show never could be properly decorated.

The redwood tree idea was a happy thought, as the 80,000 feet of floor space just lends itself neatly to the decorative scheme. The cars are to peep out from beneath the mass of branches and the show is to be given in a great garden where ornamental trees and plants instead of bare posts are to mark the spaces between the booths.

The main entrance will be on Pico street. After entering the auditorium the visitors will be confronted with two aisles leading into the main exhibit. The aisles will be wide enough to accommodate a throng and there will be no crowding. Down the aisles the spectators can walk to the booths, all of which will front on one or the other of the paths through the miniature forest.

Cars and cars, nothing but late-model machines, will be on display. Of course these will be the gems of the setting. The committee has arranged everything so that the cars will be prominent in the display. It will be easy to pick out any model. There is really no choice of space, as every machine will be seen.

Manager Conwell last night began letting the minor contracts for the show. All of the large contracts are being carried out and the bills are soon to pour in. There are a thousand details, however, to attend to before the opening.

Six men and Manager Conwell are working every hour of the day to make the show a success, and every dealer who is to exhibit is boosting. Headed by Manager Conwell, the other members of the committee, Fred W. Flint, manager for the Stoddard-Dayton Motor Car Company; P. H. Greer, of the Greer-Robbins Company; William E. Bush, the Pierce-Arrow agent; H. I. Fennimore of Nash & Fennimore; A. M. Young of Bireley & Young, and Earle C. Anthony, manager for the Western Motor Car Company, are hustling to make the show a success.

The exhibit should be the finest ever seen. There will be nothing but late-model 1910 cars and one 1911 machine. This means that almost every licensed model now before the public can be examined at Fiesta Park from February 19 to 26.

BOWLING RECORD.

DETROIT, Feb. 14.—All records were broken here yesterday by the bowlers, when Secretary Langley opened his mail. A total of 410 five-men teams have sent in their money for the tenth annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress. One thousand doubles and nearly 2000 individuals will roll in the present meet.

TO RETAIN FOOTBALL.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—Football will be retained by the University of Chicago unless the National Rules Committee takes an unexpected turn against the popular safety measures, according to President Harry Pratt Judson. President Judson returned from a visit in the East yesterday with the news that the gridiron sport is not in such great

PLAN TO BEAT NAVY.

Army Football Sponsors Keep on With Campaign of Gridiron Strategy.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WEST POINT (N. Y.) Feb. 14.—In the intervals of working out desirable changes in football rules, Lieut. H. M. Melly and other men at West Point responsible for army football, have been devoting a lot of time to planning for the campaign of 1910. Their sole object as in the last two years will be a victory over the navy.

There is a regular board of football strategy at the military academy, with Lieut. Nelly as its chief. Pullen, captain of the team last year, will probably return in the fall as a graduate coach.

The coaches declare themselves very much impressed with the members of the entering class last year. No class for years, they say, has contained so much football material of promise, and they believe the next team will be composed largely of names new on the football roll of honor.

Herrmann Predicts Kling's Reinstatement.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The board of directors of the National League clubs, in session in New York today, fined the Philadelphia club $250 for the forfeiture of a game with New York at the Polo Grounds on October 4; fined Capt. Dooin of the Phillies $100 for unseemly conduct in the same game, and approved the list of umpires selected by President Lynch.

Adjournment then was taken until tomorrow.

Hearing on the claim of William Murray for $15,000 from the Philadelphia club upon the allegation that his cancelled contract as manager still has two years to run, was postponed.

TO ADOPT SCHEDULE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—The American League will adopt a 154-game schedule at its meeting which begins tomorrow, regardless of the action of the National League in New York, according to a statement of President B. B. Johnson today.

The American League meeting will begin tomorrow, but the schedule will not be adopted until Wednesday.

The principal business to come before the meeting tomorrow will be the adoption of the ten-year agreement. Apparently there will be no objection to the continuance of the circuit for another decade, as all the clubs are well satisfied with present conditions.

HERRMANN TALKS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CINCINNATI, Feb. 14.—That Catcher Kling of the Chicago Cubs will be reinstated and that the short schedule of games will be adopted at the annual spring meeting of the National League in New York was the prediction of President Garry Herrmann of the Cincinnati club before he left for the East last night.

Herrmann said he did not see why the former Cub catcher should not be declared eligible, and as for the schedule, he did not believe there would be more than one or two in favor of the long series.

"We will play 154 games next year, and will on Tuesday issue the statement in New York to this effect. At last there seems to be peace in the league and it will remain peaceable so far as I am personally concerned, for the rest of the year.

"There is no reason that I can think of now why Kling cannot be reinstated. Of course, this matter will have to be settled when the National Commission meets."

On top of Herrmann's statement came the report that Kling has sent to the commission a statement to the effect that if they don't allow him to play ball for four years, he will bring action in the civil courts for $40,000 against the members of the commission.

TOURNEY COMPLETED.

DENVER, Feb. 14.—The annual boxing and wrestling tournament of the Denver Athletic Club, in which nearly 100 amateur boxers and wrestlers took part, came to a conclusion tonight, the finals in all classes being pulled off. The winners will be sent to the annual tournament of the A.A.U. at Seattle.

CLASSICAL.

BEAUTIFUL WHITE BLOCK TO BE REARED FOR CITY.

Water Department's granite-and-brick structure.

THIS classical structure, which will be erected on the corner of Fifth and Olive streets, for the accommodation of the great and rapidly-growing business of the Los Angeles water department, will be a fitting companion-piece to the Pacific Mutual Insurance building, on the opposite corner of the same block.

It will be a steel frame building, the lower story covered with granite and the upper stories with white glazed brick, and will cost, complete, over $200,000. The only portion of the work that has yet been suomitted to bids is the excavation, to be completed by April 9. The lowest bid received yesterday for moving the 5400 yards of earth was $4891. There were two other bids, $5150 and $5244, and all were referred to the Building Committee. The Water Board asked for a final estimate on the cost of the structure, and bids will be called for, the work to begin not later than April 10. The interior arrangement has not been fully decided upon, which is one reason why a more definite estimate of the cost cannot be made at present, and these details were under consideration at yesterday's meeting.

HIS TRIAL HERE.

POWELL TO BE MEASURED AGAINST MEMSIC TONIGHT.

LEW POWELL, the pride of San Francisco fight fans, and one of the best lightweights in the business, is to make his first appearance before Los Angeles sports tonight in the main event against George Memsic at McCarey's fight shop.

Powell has several good fights to his credit, but lost his last argument with Ad Wolgast. Powell couldn't solve the clever defense of the Milwaukee wonder. The fight tonight should be a hummer, for Memsic is made to order for Powell, and should give Powell the chance to show up at his best.

Both pugs are in fine shape and prepared for a gruelling scrap. If Memsic can hold his temper and keep cool he should make a winning impression against the northerner, for George has the courage of a born fighter, and has the strength and cleverness to win in a knockout even against as good a man as Powell.

Two first-class boys in Frankie Sullivan and Curley O'Connell will mix in the semi-wind-up, and the bout has the "makings" of an unusually livevy fight. Both boys are aggressive, yet careful and can hit hard enough to win over the sleep route. Sullivan is lighter, but is probably a gamer fighter than Curley, while O'Connell will have the advantage of reach and strength.

The bout between Joe Livermore and Bubbies Robinson, who are to fight in the six-round preliminary, should be a good one. Robinson has been a favorite with the crowd, win or lose, and his chances against Livermore appear to be about even, providing he doesn't run amuck of Joe's strong right wallop.

There will be two fairly good four-round prelims, between Harry Curland and Danny Ruiz in the curtain-raiser, and Frank Roman and Bert James in bout number two. All four boys are clever lads, who should furnish an interesting entertainment as the average prelims hold for the fans.

The full card is:

Harry Curland and Danny Ruiz, four rounds.

Frank Roman and Bert James, four rounds.

Joe Livermore and Bubbies Robinson, six rounds.

Frankie Sullivan and Curley O'Connell, ten rounds.

Lew Powell and George Memsic, ten rounds.

reception and entertainment, to which both men and women are invited. There will be a gymnastic and musical entertainment by employés of the postoffice, and Assistant Postmaster Harrison and others will make short addresses.

Everything looks encouraging for the complete success of the undertaking to get the 2000 members by one week from tomorrow, and the progress of the work from day to day will be watched with interest.

CROOK'S VIEW.

HE "PIPES" OFF AN "EASY LAY."

AGREES WITH COUNCIL HEAD REGARDING ARRESTS.

Burglar Relates How Police Had to Let Him Go When Once Arrested Here, Because They Dared Not Hold Him Awhile "On Suspicion." "Cinch," He Says.

Proud of his successful career as a professional burglar, John Page, who has served time in penitentiaries under the name of Frank Beale, held a soiree in the City Jail yesterday and added to his other naive confessions by telling Captain Flammer of adventures here in 1899. The crafty "daylighter" explained that he "worked over the town" at that time, was caught practically with the goods on, taken to the Central Police Station, and released. An afternoon paper took up his case and made so much of a fuss over him that certain patrolmen asked the burglar's pardon.

The strange story of the veteran malefactor is best told in his own style and vernacular:

"You see de reformer ginks were handing de rough stuff to de bulls when I got in town to do a little business," said he. "I didn't know it when I first blowed in, but I sure got wise pretty quick. Dey was fighting against having pinches made on suspicion. I like a town when it gets dat way—fine!

"While strolling around looking over what dey calls de Bonnie Brae district for a little fresh business, a fly bob tapped me on the hat block and piped me to a stall about having to inquire about strangers. I had me screws (thieves' patois for burglar keys,) and me jimmie with me tucked in under de vest." (Here he showed how he carried his valuable tools by indicating their position with his hands.)

"The fly mug showed his tin and I piped that he was a Dick (detective). I handed him the bunk and tossed out some good talk about how I had a brother in 'Frisco what had asked me to try my luck as a salesman down here. The Dick sez he would have to search me and I threw back my arms and told him to go to it. He answered by saying that he would wait till he took me to his house. This was duck soup for me. On the way I slipped me screws into some weeds, and later when he was being lidded into watching one hand, I plumped de jimmie away in a bunch of grass.

"You see, I had been looking into a lay earlier dat day and had not cached nothing, 'cause there was a bunch of no good stuff dat I didn't pack. The Dick went through me and still had a hunch I was a dip or gun of some sort. He telephoned into the down-town cop joint and I heard him say: 'He tells a straight enough story but I am suspicious. He looks like a bad one, but I didn't find anything on him.' He took me into town and turned me over to the Dicks at Central Station here. They worked me over with come-on jolly and straight quizzing, but they does it in a soft way and don't cut loose any rough stuff like what I figgered on. My bunk talk was strong, and dey was bluffed to hold me on suspicion, so I got loose.

"I had to make me play strong so I went to where I was living and paying rent and I cuts loose a fierce line about ME, a gentleman, traveling salesman and tourist, being arrested. It went fine and I dropped in on some fems (women) who was having a social chat at the cave (house) and piped up about de outrage. Did dey fall fer it—sure. It went good again.

"A nice doll what said she worked for de Evening Express got me stall talk and used it. She got me down to de newspaper office and dey treated me like a hero and roasted de perlice. It was de best ever. Outrage, scandal and all dat was de way they put it. In a few days I seen a couple of bulls and dey told me dey was sorry to have made a mistake about me. Said dey hoped I wasn't sore. I wasn't needer, you can bet. You see I like de town so well I come back."

Here the jolly burglar lunched uproariously and began devouring his supper with heartiness. He stopped, winked, as his guests departed and called out: "Dey oughtn't to arrest no one on suspicion; it crabs business, I tink. Ha, Ha."

The story told is substantially true, but the burglar was not arrested by a detective. Charles Foster, now dead, an efficient special officer in charge of Foster's patrol service, was certain that Page or Beale was a criminal. He did his duty in turning the man over to the detective department, and they in their turn tried to find out about the suspicious character. Because of the police "reform" crusade at that time the detectives feared to hold Page while they worked up the facts connected with his past career of crime. He went free to continue depredations, which are astounding.

The burglar is an enthusiastic believer, with John D. Works, president of the City Council, in the theory that there should be no arrests "on suspicion." Police detectives now sadly shake their heads as they see themselves handicapped by the Goo-Goo police commission, and note the flocking of criminals into this city. An unprecedented number of burglaries is making householders feel the difference between practical and theoretical management of a police department.

POISONED BY PRICKING PIMPLE
With a Pin—Inflammation Set In and Itching, Pain and Swelling Followed—Unable to Rest Day or Night—Suffered Six Months—Relieved in a Day and Wholly CURED BY CUTICURA ON SISTER'S ADVICE
"Several years ago I had a little pimple come between my ankle and knee. I opened it with a pin which caused it to inflame. In a short time my limb was so poisoned and swollen I could scarcely use it. I suffered intense pain, being unable to rest day or night. I tried every remedy recommended, consulted several specialists but grew worse all the time, finding no relief in anything.
"My sister recommended the Cuticura Remedies. I began using the Cuticura Remedies according to directions and I was so much relieved that I slept some the first night. The itching, burning and swelling in my limb gradually decreased and the sore began to heal. After six months' suffering such as I had endured, the relief was wonderful. I continued the treatment several weeks and a permanent recovery was the result. I shall ever recommend the Cuticura Remedies to any one suffering from blood and skin diseases. Mrs. D. M. May, R. F. D. 5, Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 25, '09."
SOFT WHITE HANDS
In a Night by the Use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment.
These pure, sweet and gentle emollients preserve the hands, prevent redness, roughness and chapping, and impart in a single night that velvety softness and whiteness so much desired by women. For those whose occupations tend to injure the hands or who suffer from dry, fissured, itching, feverish palms and shapeless nails, with painful finger-ends, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are simply wonderful.

Causes Debility
Here are Facts Backed Up by a Strong Guarantee
Catarrh causes debility. In our opinion, most people suffering from general debility have catarrh. Such cases of debility cannot be completely cured by medicine not designed to eradicate catarrh. In every case where our remedy fails to give entire satisfaction we will not charge a cent for the medicine employed during the trial. Now, surely no one should hesitate to believe us or to put our claim to a practical test under such conditions. We will take all the risk; no one else can lose anything by the transaction.
We make these statements and this offer because we know and have time and again proved that Rexall Mucu-Tone rarely fails to do as we claim. It is not a cure-all prescribed to cure every disease that flesh is heir to. It is intended for one purpose, i. e., to cure catarrh by assailing the diseased condition in a reasonable, scientific way, which is to employ agents that have been found to have the tonic and alterative power to correct faulty metabolism (tissue change) and to stimulate and help nature overcome the cause or causes of catarrh. This being done, appetite increases, nutrition improves, weight is gained, comfort of body is attained and life's work taken up with the zest natural to the perfectly healthy individual.
We want you to try Rexall Mucu-Tone. Follow directions and take it regularly and consistently for a reasonable length of time. Then, if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us and the money you paid for the treatment will be returned without any argument whatever.
Rexall Mucu-Tone comes in two sizes, 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Sold only at our stores—The Rexall Stores. The OWL DRUG CO., Inc., Los An...

PUT YOUR RENT MONEY INTO AN ACRE.
$10 CASH, $10 MONTHLY.
FREE TRIPS.

It's the time of year to cut off the money rent-paying habit, to put that money into your own home. You can do so easily at cost. Develop an acre place with a little of a garden and some chickens, a place will cut your expenses down to a minimum, yet pay for itself if you work it right. Only 20 minutes away by trolley. You have to give up your present occupation as at Somerset. With sandy loam soil and water in abundance you have perfect conditions for poultry, vegetables, fruits, berries, and many other products. See Somerset what others are doing there. That will convince you as nothing else can. Autos every hour daily and up to 2 p.m., Sun.

10 PER CENT. ABOVE ALL EXPENSES.

There are few properties that will stand careful analysis, that pay this attractive rate above all expenses.

The following are first-class, pay the rate stated, on leases, mind you, with no bother in collections or change of tenants.

$24,000—$225 month;	10 per cent. net.
$45,000—$407 month;	9.3 per cent. net.
$23,500—$183 month;	7.8 per cent. net.
$50,000—$350 month;	7.6 per cent. net.
$55,000—$372 month;	7 per cent. net.
$300,000—$950 month;	6.8 per cent. net.
$26,000—$150 month;	5.8 per cent. net.

Remember, prospective increase in ground value is an important factor. We have many properties with old buildings, not considered in pricing property, carry them ourselves from the nominal rental and will pay handsome advances in a few years.

Monrovia.

FOR SALE—

MONROVIA.

$3000 BUNGALOW $2500.

We are just opening a beautiful new tract along the route of Huntington Drive in city of Monrovia. Grand view of mountains, clean, sunny, highly improved with best street work.

To start tract quickly we will sell new 5-room bungalow at actual builder's cost. A bargain at $2500, you can buy it for $2500. The right party can have it for a hundred or so down and balance like rent, perhaps less. It is not money but the character of the family that interests us. Many other beautiful bungalow homes will be built at once. This is a genuine opportunity to get a home in the most attractive section of Southern California where values are rising most rapidly.

FOR SALE—BARGAIN IN BEAUTIFUL North Glendale; new 6-room bungalow, on good street, 1 block from car; fireplace, buffet, bath, screen porch, laundry tub, large closets, etc.; lot 50x170, price only $2250; $500 cash; cheapest home in this fine section. 413 I. W. HELLMAN BLDG. 61094, Main 7939. 15

FOR SALE—IN GLENDALE, ON PACIFIC avenue near Vine, nearly acre land, two-story house; seven rooms and bath, cellar modern. Fine for chickens, vegetables, berries, fruit trees planted. $4125. On time. Values rising continually. O'BRIEN, owner. x

South Pasadena and Oneonta Park.

FOR SALE—THESE ARE DECIDED BARGAINS.

Beautiful suburban home place, near Oak Knoll, on Monrovia car, this property consists of 2¼ acres; covered with full-bearing orange trees, with an abundance of water; house is new, has 6 rooms on first floor, with fine large veranda, clinker brick pillars; beam ceilings, paneled walls, beautiful buffet, full oak floors, very large bedrooms, fine large bath, servant's room; buffet kitchen, and 4 large rooms can be made upstairs, if desired; auto shed, chicken corrals, etc. This is the way we define a bargain. The land value is $2000. The house cost $4000 to build, so you can see that this price of $7000 is decidedly under value. Gas and electricity can be had at city rate. This is a most beautiful property. Let us show you. One-half cash will handle it.

Five-acre ranch, close to Alhambra, near electric car line, 20 minutes from Los Angeles, in walnuts, variety of fruit and berries; 7-room house, barn, corrals, 5 shares of water stock. Price has always been $5000. Can be had for short time at $4500, and on good terms.

A large list of one-acre pieces; in oranges, live oaks, and beautiful shrubbery, from $1000 the acre up. All are extra special bargains. You can't make a better investment. A few lots that are at sacrifice prices, $1400, east front, covered with 15-year-old Valencia orange. Gas, electricity and street work all in. Two blocks from Oneonta Park Station.

Alhambra.

FOR SALE—IN ALHAMBRA, WHY NOT own one of these fine large lots in our beautiful Alhambra. They have sold rapidly, but there are still plenty for you. Our 50x150 lots are all sold but two. They are 50x300 feet. Water, graded streets, cement curb, and gas will be in very shortly. It is not a lonesome place, plenty of houses already built. Only four or five blocks from the car line, an easy 7-minute walk. The view of mountains and valley you have never seen equaled. They will advance in price without any question. Then we have those splendid lots of 100x300 feet, all covered with orange trees and beautiful shade trees. Graded streets, curbs, and part of these lots have gas. They are located on the main boulevard between Pasadena and Ramona Park, or Alhambra. These lots run from $1500 to $2000. We have also 100x310, same location, and are splendid bargains, most of them in Valencia oranges, and are located only 4 blocks from the High School and the car line. These run from $1350 and up. Take your wife along and come and see them. Our automobile is always in order to take you out. We are sole agents for all this property and will treat everybody courteously.

HOLLYWOOD—
For Sale, Exchange or Rent.

FOR SALE—
The charming village of Hollywood has become a suburb of Los Angeles. Its beautiful location among the foothills, with its invigorating ocean breezes, its natural advantages as a residence section, its high class of citizens and its fine improvements, has induced us to install an additional department in our business to handle Hollywood property exclusively.

There is a growing interest in that section and we believe it has a great future. When the improvements now under way are completed it will surely be one of the beauty spots of Southern California. We solicit the co-operation of the people of Hollywood and request them to list their property with us. We will give such interests especial attention. We are located at 608 SOUTH HILL ST., nearly opposite the Hollywood and Colegrove depots.

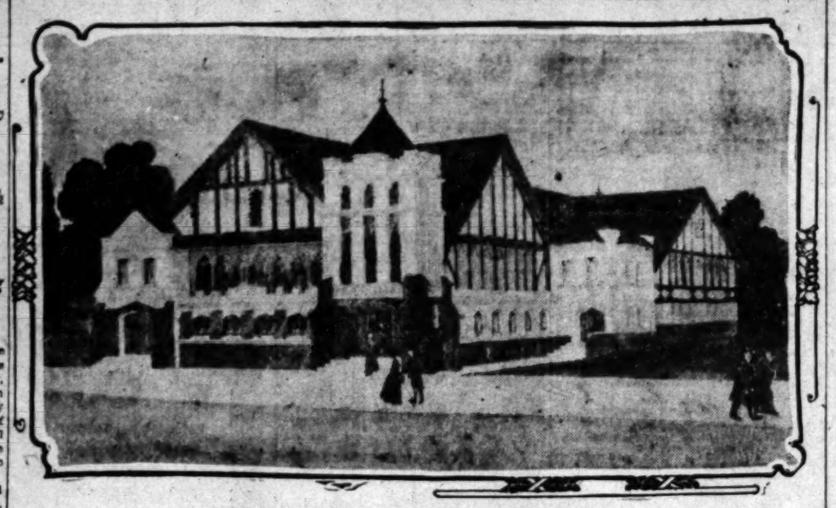
ATTRACTIVE CHURCH FOR HIGHLAND PARK BAPTISTS



House of Worship of English Gothic Type, designed by Norman F. Marsh, and to be started at once on the west side of Monte Vista avenue, near Avenue 59. The building will occupy a site of sixty-two feet frontage in a choice part of the Highland Park section. The Sunday-school quarters will be built first, the auditorium being added later. A large foyer will connect the two portions, making it possible to throw the entire interior into one extensive audience room. The exterior will be of frame, blue brick and plaster, the gables being in half timber effect.

NAMES FORGED IS ALLEGATION.

CHARGE AGAINST LAWYER IS UNDER INVESTIGATION.

He Is Accused of Having Filed Spurious Notice of Service in a Suit in the Superior Court to Obtain an Order of Default for His Client. Denials.

Deputy District-Attorney North is investigating charges made that Attorney A. J. Allen filed a paper with forged signatures on it in a trial before Judge Moss.

Allen denies that there was any irregularity about the instrument in question that he was aware of, and declares if there was anything wrong with it that he was entirely innocent.

Gustave Bercander, through Attorneys J. Erwin McKenna and A. J. Allen, filed a suit in the Superior Court last April, against Emma J. and John F. Baxter, for $3600 for personal services. Attorneys Simpson, Moody & Simpson of Pasadena, appeared for the defendants.

The case was set for trial for December 21. When it was called, neither the defendants or their attorneys appeared to contest the action. Judge Moss called attention to the fact that there was no notice of service on the defending attorneys, apprising them of the trial date, among the papers and pleadings. Allen is alleged to have declared that they had been served and that he could produce the notice with their signatures of receipt of service attached.

The evidence was taken, but the judge would not give a decision for default, because the paper he had mentioned was missing.

It is asserted that three days later, Allen appeared in court and filed the described instrument with the clerk.

Several days later goods belonging to the defendants were attached. Elmer Moody, one of the defending attorneys, hastened to seek an interview with Judge Moss. He declared that none of the firm had been notified of the date of the trial. He pronounced the signature on the notice a forgery.

The judge decided that the case should be thoroughly investigated and called in North, before whom the facts were laid.

It has been represented to the Deputy District Attorney that this means was taken to get a default judgment. Realizing the importance of having the notice preserved, North instructed County Clerk Keyes to put it under lock and key. North has not made a sufficient investigation to warrant definite action as yet, but he declares, if all of the representations which have been made can be corroborated, he will file charges of forgery and will have the Bar Association take up the case.

When interviewed yesterday Allen said that he has been guilty of no misconduct whatsoever, and that he will court an investigation of all the facts.

Elmer I. Moody of the law firm of Simpson, Moody & Simpson, Pasadena, who represent the defendant in the case, said last night: "We had no notice from A. J. Allen, who represented the plaintiff, that he had called for the case to be brought up for trial. We did not know that it had been set, and were much surprised. Allen told the court that he had served notice on us. Judge Moss asked for the notice which Allen claimed he had served on us. The court said he would proceed as soon as Allen would produce the notice which had been properly acknowledged by us, and that if we defaulted he would grant judgment. Three days before the case was set for trial Allen filed a notice with the clerk purporting to be signed by us. The middle name of the defendant was unintelligible, and a clear case of forgery. We took the case before Judge Moss and had the judgment set aside. We were notified by the plaintiff today that he has secured another attorney named Mr. Wheeler. We intend to take the matter before the Bar Association and ask to have Allen debarred from practicing law. I have given Allen no chance to make any explanation. He wrote me a letter stating that he understood I intended to make a complaint, and stated that he would call to see me, but he has never done so."

ROADHOUSE RAID.

Chief of Detectives Browne of the District Attorney's office, with a force of deputies, raided Sadie Roschet's roadhouse at Bairdstown last night, found a lot of men and women drinking there, and took the woman to Pasadena, where she will be tried. Mother, Mrs. J. de Wolf, wife of the proprietor of the Granada Hotel, is also here.

GRATIFYING.

ANNUAL REPORT IS A HUMMER.

PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE SHOWS A FINE RECORD.

Company Now Ranks Second, Comparing Rates Earned, Among Thirty-seven Other Corporations in Similar Line—Meeting of Stockholders and All Old Officers Are Re-elected.

Progress during the last four years, as shown by net profits, by comparisons with other companies and by comparisons with the past record of its own corporation, as well as other gratifying features to stockholders of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, are contained in the annual report of its president, George I. Cochran. The report was read at the annual meeting of the stockholders yesterday, at which time directors and officers of the company for the ensuing year were all re-elected.

The president lays considerable stress upon the first-class record made regarding the mortality, or death rate, it being as low in 1909 as could possibly be expected, and he credits this to the careful supervision of the medical department by Drs. W. W. Beckett and V. A. Humphrey.

The rate of earnings realized for the last four years upon the "mean invested capital" is tabulated and the statement is made that, comparing the rate with the rates earned by thirty-seven other companies, the Pacific Mutual ranks about second. Mr. Cochran also emphasizes, as proof that the funds of the company have been well invested, the fact that for three consecutive years the business of the company has been closed without any overdue interest on any of its securities.

While the company has lost a great deal of business by lapse, the last year has shown much improvement in that respect and the president asserts that the company, in proportion to its size, has in the last twelve months written more new business than any other company in this country. Notwithstanding that the earthquake and fire destroyed the home office within the four years, the company has within that period largely increased its business and has almost doubled its gross assets.

The report is exhaustive, going into the work of every department of the company and touching upon the work of various agents in various parts of the country, showing how the business has been advanced and strengthened in many localities outside of California, and gives grateful credit for success to the faithfulness of officers, agents and employés. The reélected officers and directors of the company for this year are as follows:

Officers—President, George I. Cochran; vice-president, Gail B. Johnson; second vice-president, Danford M. Baker; third vice-president, Rich J. Mier; secretary, C. I. D. Moore; first assistant secretary, A. W. Morgan; second assistant secretary, Harry E. Moore; treasurer, Gail B. Johnson; assistant treasurer, Thomas B. Inch; medical director, Dr. W. W. Beckett; assistant medical director, Dr. V. A. Humphrey; Executive Committee, Gail B. Johnson, John B. Miller, J. C. Drake, W. J. Crocker, Lee A. Phillips, Dr. W. W. Beckett.

Directors—Henry T. Scott, Isaac Milbank, John B. Miller, Joseph H. Clark, Lee A. Phillips, J. C. Drake, E. J. Marshall, H. Beaver, W. W. Beckett, W. H. Crocker, H. J. Brainerd, Gail B. Johnson, John R. Haynes, W. H. Davis, George I. Cochran, Milbank Johnson, Lucien Shaw, Danford M. Baker, John Newton Russell, Jr.

COUGHED ALL NIGHT

Till This Recipe Was Tried. Cure Followed in 5 Hours.

A prominent medical man, who suffered with a severe cough and cold on the lungs, often being kept awake all night, and weakened by loss of sleep, finally discovered a simple formula which will cure any cough in five hours by the clock. It is a laxative tonic cough syrup which can be made at home by anyone and the formula is here given for the benefit of those who pass sleepless nights in painful paroxysms. Those who have tried it say it is magical, and beats any high-priced, slow-acting cough medicine ever sold.

Mix in a bottle one-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardiol and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Take twenty drops every half hour for four hours. Then take one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day. Give children less according to age. This will tone up and rid the system of deep-seated coughs every time.

SKIN SUFFERERS' DOUBT IS REMOVED

Many eczema sufferers have failed so utterly with salves and other "discoveries" that even the assurance of the best physician or druggist cannot induce them to invest another dollar in any remedy.

It is to these discouraged sufferers in particular that we now offer, at only 25 cents, a trial bottle of the accepted standard eczema remedy, a simple wash of oil of wintergreen, thymol and glycerine, as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription.

Hundreds of cures have convinced us and we know you can prove instantly with the first application that it takes away the itch at once.

Dr. Ng Toy Kee
861 Harrison St. Oakland, Cal
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN—I hereby certify that I am completely cured by Dr. Toy Kee from a severe attack of tuberculosis. I used all kinds of medicine without results and gave it up until I heard of this Chinese doctor. I gave him a trial and found I had at last obtained the only physician capable of doing what no other doctor could do. I was coughing day and night, expectorating blood, losing sleep and hardly able to work. After being treated by Dr. Toy Kee a few months I was entirely well and will answer any communications sent me regarding my cure. Respectfully, J. P. AUG. SCHNOOR, 1611 Felton St., Berkeley, Cal.

Kranich & Bach
Two Of Exclusive
Pianos—For 50
Is a Leader

of the Kranich & Bach music world today stands on its own merits. Recognition is widespread and unanimously the famous Kranich & Bach, Chickering & Hessley, Chickering to the world, has taken the Kranich & Bach agency—to us the most piano in one of this is merely another the Kranich & Bach is considered the finest and the production of a piano house and a wonderful value. It has an individuality of tone, a harp-like quality, found in no other Piano. The famous "Violyn Plate" is another exclusive feature.

The Famous "Violyn Plate"

The "Violyn Plate," as developed in the Kranich & Bach, permits the violin principle of stringing for the first time in the history of piano construction. It permits the greatest tone vibration, without unnecessary pull or tension. Thus the tone itself is pure and sonorous and the piano stays in tune much longer than under old methods.

We are exclusive Kranich & Bach representatives for Southern California and Arizona. New Kranich & Bachs can be purchased nowhere else. Uprights $475 up, Grands $750 up, terms $10 and $15 monthly. We are showing a large number of new instruments just received—in mahogany, oak, walnut, colonial effects, etc. Also some beautiful Louis XV models to which we invite special attention.

Victrolas The Highest Type of Victor

The Victor-Victrola is the "Talking Machine de Luxe"—the finest of Victors, concealed in a beautiful cabinet, without the horn feature. The Victrola is an ornament to any drawing-room or music room. No mechanical sounds whatever are audible. The volume of music can be perfectly regulated. The $200 Victrola is in solid mahogany, light or dark finish, with all metal work gold-plated. The $250 Victrola is similar, but in beautiful Circassian Walnut. The new Victrola at $125 combines all the advantages of the higher-priced Victrolas, without the cabinet feature. Tone may be regulated, as in other Victrolas, by opening and closing the modifying doors. Victrolas may be purchased on terms of $10 and up monthly.

"THE MAN WHO WON."

HOT LOVE; COLD CASH, THEN A LITTLE SUIT.

Romance of Authoress and Millionaire, Punctuated With Love Letters, Taken to Court for One Hundred Thousand Dollars.

"AL" MYERS, the reputed millionaire mine owner and founder of Goldfield, a member of many Los Angeles clubs, and owner of one of the finest homes in Southern California, was sued yesterday for $100,000 damages for alleged seduction. His accuser is Julia Ward Gibson, a young woman author and lecturer before women's clubs. She is a resident of Pasadena, the daughter of a retired Presbyterian minister.

In support of her assertion that she was wronged under a promise of marriage, Miss Gibson has produced a voluminous package of love letters which she says were written by Myers, and will be read in court when the case comes to trial. These letters indicate that, compared with Myers, the burning Romeo was but a piffling trifler—although he may have spelled better.

Miss Gibson's story is to the effect that she met Myers last June in connection with her work as a magazine writer. About a month before, he had been defendant in a red-hot divorce suit wherein his wife, Mrs. Mattie Myers, testified that he had dragged her out of bed; beaten her in the face, chased her out of the house in her nightgown, firing at her with a pistol as she fled into the night; and bestowed upon her the flattering compliment, that he would like to "hold her head in the fireplace until it burned her neck off."

Mr. Myers entered a default in this suit, settled about $100,000 on the divorced wife; and, according to Miss Gibson, being off with the old love, was on with the new.

She avers that, under the belief that they would marry when the necessary year had elapsed after the divorce, she surrendered herself to the amorous swain, relying, as she says in the damage suit filed yesterday, upon "flattery, false promises, artifice, urgent importunity and profession of attachment." Wherefore she asks $50,000 damages.

Asserting that she has been "distressed in mind and body, and has experienced much agony and great mental anguish and has been unable to do any mental or physical work or earn any money to support herself or her father or mother; has experienced great shame and humiliation and has been permanently injured in body and mind," she asks an additional $50,000.

Miss Gibson's friends say that Myers cooled from his romantic fervor last November, and refuses, now, to be married or to make any provision for her. Almost in want, she has flung shame to the winds and has made public her story and his letters through her attorneys, Earl Rogers and W. H. Dehm.

MONEY VS. LOVE.

One of Myers's friends made the following statement last night, in his defense and with his authority:

"This young woman met Mr. Myers as the representative of a magazine then publishing a series of sketches of self-made men.

"After once meeting him in Los Angeles, she came to his home in Long Beach by appointment.

"What she terms seduction took place at his house—the second time they ever met.

"Mr. Myers seemed to think contrary to the purpose of getting money, he became more indifferent and she commenced then to claim she was pregnant and to demand a settlement.

"She laid her case before several lawyers who did not take up the matter after becoming acquainted with the facts."

RED-HOT LETTERS.

Myers's letters were written to her from New York and are the worse-spelled and the wildest protestations of love ever written on the stationery of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. All his letters are signed "A. D. Myers," or with just the intitials, "A. D. M."

He had gone to New York to float one of his Mr. Goldfield mines. He

MRS. SINGLETON SUES.

Action for Divorce Instituted With Great Secrecy Yesterday, Even Attorney's Name Being Withheld.

It is whispered in society circles that John Singleton and his pretty wife have once more become estranged and that Mrs. Stella Singleton has quietly instituted proceedings here for divorce. With great secrecy a divorce suit was filed at the Courthouse yesterday by a Mrs. Stella Singleton against John Singleton. The clerks refused to give out any information, even as to the attorney for the fair plaintiff. Five or six years ago the Singletons separated and a legal settlement was drawn up by two prominent attorneys. Later they became reconciled and traveled abroad several seasons.

Mrs. Singleton has spent much of her time in San Francisco, where she has many friends, and her name has appeared "among those present" at many a social function. When in the city she generally secures an apartment at some fashionable hotel in the Westlake district. Her husband is part owner of the Yellow Aster mine. He is reputed to have made and lost several large fortunes. His office is still in the Coulter building, but he generally stays at his club when in the city.

Singleton Court, where the dashing couple once resided, was one of the show places of the city. Its handsome trees and flowers are still much admired, but the old residence set in the center of the wide expanse of grounds has never been repaired. At one time it was considered one of the artistic residences in the city. A destructive fire gutted the house, and the Singletons lost many treasures and paintings that they had picked up on their foreign trips. Singleton's library was filled with rare books. When it was sold at auction it did not bring one-third of its estimated value.

Earl Rogers was formerly attorney of record for Mrs. Singleton. He stated last night that he no longer represents her. "Though I am not Mrs. Singleton's counsel, I am not in a position to give any information about her," said he. "Professional secrecy binds an attorney, long after the relation of client and counsel is terminated. Absolutely, I cannot discuss any probable divorce action. You must consult the court records."

John Singleton could not be located at any club or hotel last night. One of his friends stated that he had not seen Singleton in the city for several weeks.

WARRANTS ISSUE FOR HAMILTON COMPANY DIRECTORS.

Effort to Absorb Holdings of Rival Mining Concern Starts Trouble, and Several Prominent Men Are Involved—Two Views of Rather Unusual Proceedings Are Given.

Trouble arising out of attempts of the Antelope Valley Gold Mining Company to absorb the Hamilton Mining and Milling Company resulted yesterday in warrants being issued from Justice Chambers's court for the arrest of the directors of the latter concern.

The complaints were based on three counts. The directors of the Hamilton company are alleged to have voted and concurred in unlawfully voting stock dividends, withdrawing and dividing treasury stock among shareholders without consideration, and in conspiring together to defraud other stockholders by criminal means and to embezzle.

Those who are named as defendants are Sherman Page, E. M. Hamilton, F. M. Hamilton, Truman W. Hamilton and W. Lester Hamilton. They will probably be arraigned today.

The property over which the trouble arose is situated in Kern county. It formerly comprised a ranch, which was controlled by the Hamiltons. They discovered gold and began operations. Page was their legal adviser and was given shares of stock for his services.

The company was incorporated for $1,000,000, being divided into shares of $1 each. The five directors each took 100,000 shares and another 100,000 shares was held by Mrs. Elsie Hamilton. The remaining 400,000 shares were held as treasury stock.

The Antelope company's property was adjoining and a deal was negotiated whereby the Antelope company was to acquire the shares of the Hamiltons, intending to allow the franchise of the corporation to be forfeited, after deeding all of the property to itself.

Cash in the sum of $900 was paid. Later $10,000 was paid and a note for $5000 was given. This was secured by a mortgage executed on the Hamilton property. Page now declares that this was an illegal transaction, while A. E. Wiley, president of the Antelope company, alleges that Page held his stock illegally.

On February 9 a director's meeting was called. Wiley appeared and demanded that Roger S. Page, a member of the Board of Education and secretary of the Hamilton corporation, transfer the stock his company had purchased on the books.

Wiley declares he was informed that there was an allegation that he obtained the stock fraudulently and that Page would take a day to look into the proposition.

It is declared that the meeting was held, although the Hamiltons were said to have forfeited their rights as directors, having disposed of their stock. The criminal action is based on the alleged transactions at that time. They are alleged to have voted a stock dividend to themselves of the 400,000 shares of treasury stock, even though the Antelope company professed to be the sole owners of the stock which had been issued.

The latter in an interview yesterday declared that the Antelope concern had merely made a purchase from individuals of a block of stock and that a mortgage was illegally placed on the Hamilton property.

The whole affair is complicated and will require a lot of threshing out before the justice can get at the bottom of it. The charge, which is a misdemeanor, is one of the first of its kind which has been brought in this part of the State.

WHITTLES RIVALS FEATURES.

Fighting over a girl, José Arbolo undertook last night to whittle the face of his rival, Francisco Leon, so that there could be no doubt whose manly charms the dusky señorita would prefer. One sweep of a sharp blade made a gash three inches long and as deep as the bode across the cheek of Leon, after which Arbolo

RAILROAD MAN HEADS POLICE.

Galloway Elected Chief by Board Last Night.

No Previous Experience, But a Hard Worker.

License Inspectors Under a Different System.

While the Police Commission transacted the largest volume of business it has ever disposed of in one night, Alexander Galloway sat quietly waiting for his election as Chief, succeeding Dishman, removed without cause.

After all the other business had been disposed of Galloway, whose preference by the Mayor and a majority of the commission was published in The Times two weeks ago, together with his photograph, was nominated by Commissioner Topham. The motion was seconded by Wellborn, and unanimously carried.

This was the open proceeding, but the

Alexander Galloway, who was appointed Chief of Police last night.

selection had been settled hours before in a secret meeting of the commission. In the afternoon it was known that the entire commission had consented to vote for the applicant favored by the Mayor, and he gave his approval to Galloway.

The usual star chamber session did the rest. Galloway sat through the bewildering discussion of saloon permits, for it was the commission's Valentine party for liquor dealers, and seemed to take little interest in the proceedings. Acting Chief Dixon sat there abstractedly.

When Galloway was elected the Mayor called on him for a speech. He rose smilingly and spoke. In the days of twenty years ago, when he was superintendent of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad, he was reputed to be a good speaker. But he did not say much last night.

"I am thankful for the confidence you have placed in me," he stated, "and I hope that my work at the head of the police department will justify the continuance of it."

A MAN OF BUSINESS.

Chief Galloway is about 55 years of age, of Scotch descent. He is not a typical policeman in stature or demeanor. He is, rather, of the type that has worked hard in business and retired, though still ready to work hard. He has clear, cold eyes, a grey moustache, and seems a little older than he is.

His life has been almost wholly given to railroading. In his youth he was a brakeman, then a clerk, and gradually grew up until he was made division superintendent of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, stationed at Indianapolis. Fourteen years ago he was made superintendent of the entire road with headquarters at Cincinnati, which office he held until he came to California, nearly nine years ago, to become a system officer of the Southern Pacific system. Since then his home has been in Los Angeles. Until the last few months he has been superintendent of the Ocean Shore Railroad, operating out of San Francisco.

Chief Galloway owes his selection to the Mayor, who received from many of the railroad man's former superiors in the business warm letters of commendation. The Chief has had no previous police experience, and did not offer himself as anything more than a business head with large executive experience, and who has handled large numbers of men.

After the meeting the Chief's gold badge was turned over to him, and he will report this morning at the Mayor's office for a conference. He will then assume command of the force, but it is not expected that he will do much more this month than to familiarize himself with the operation of the department.

GEN. BURTON ACCEPTS.

ON CIVIL SERVICE BOARD.

After forty years' active service in the United States army, Brig.-Gen. George Hall Burton (retired) is to assume the pacific office of civil service commissioner of Los Angeles.

Gen. Burton was tendered the appointment by Mayor Alexander yesterday and accepted. He will succeed Milton K. Young, whose term expired on the 8th inst. and who has been president of the commission for the last year.

Gen. Burton,
the new member of the Civil Service Commission.

The nomination will be sent to the Council today and will be confirmed.

Gen. Burton is 67 years of age and retired in 1906. Since then he has lived in Los Angeles. Born in Delaware, he graduated from West Point in 1865, and was commissioned a lieutenant in the Twelfth Infantry. In 1871 he was promoted to the rank of Captain and began his long service in the Indian campaigns—against the Modocs in Northern California and the Nez Perces in Idaho and the Bannocks in Oregon. This service continued from 1871 until 1884, after which he was attached to the Inspector-General's department, becoming inspector-general in 1903, with the rank of brigadier-general.

Gen. Burton lives at No. 976 Elden avenue.

GARDENA'S PLEA.

ASKS LICENSE EXEMPTION.

Gardena, the midway hamlet in the "shoestring" annexation to Los Angeles, is asking that some of the burdens of municipal government be relaxed, particularly as to the enforcement of the license ordinances of the greater city.

A petition, signed by B. Fanning and a score of other business men of Gardena, represents that the ordinance offers good regulation to a city such as Los Angeles, but applied to the business needs of Gardena works many hardships. The whole region is one given to agriculture, and most of the "shoestring" trip is so narrow that the business just beyond it in county territory is exempt from license charges.

The petitioners ask to have Gardena exempted from the provisions of the license ordinance.

LEASE IS VALID.

AGRICULTURAL PARK PROJECT.

Acting on the advice of the City Attorney the Council will pass the ordinance today appropriating the first $10,000 payment on the city's lease of Agricultural Park. At the request of the Council the attorney made an investigation of the legality of this lease and he will report today that it is clearly valid.

This removes all doubt about the great enterprise which under the direction of W. M. Bowen means so much for the southwest section of the city. The lease is for fifty years and the city agrees to pay the Agricultural Park Association $10,000 a year for ten years, which sums are to be expended by the association in improvements under the guidance of the municipality.

Telephone Rates.

The Public Utilities Commission discussed several franchise applications at its session yesterday afternoon which was largely a private conference with Assistant City Attorney Shenk. Another meeting will be held this afternoon at which the telephone companies are to submit written proposals as to their course providing no temporary rates for service are fixed. The companies promise to leave their rates stand as they now exist with the exception that the Home company was induced by the commission to grant the same rate for the subscribers in the Arlington-Colegrove annexation district that Hollywood enjoys—$2.50 a month for independent unlimited service. The rate now charged about 300 subscribers is $3 a month.

City Hall Brevities.

The City Engineer has recommended the passage of an ordinance changing the grade for Alvarado street between Marcon and Berkeley streets, which was defeated by majority protests last year, carrying out the same grade planned at that time.

The City Attorney has reported to the Council that the petition of P. Marion and others asking that the two brick yards on West Pico street, one near Delaware Drive and another near Woolsey avenue, be declared nuisances by ordinances, does not require action, but that any property owner may by suit stop the yards if they are found to be nuisances.

A blow at some loan sharks was aimed by the City Attorney yesterday when he sent a report to the Council recommending the passage of an ordinance including all those who buy salary warrants or demands against the city. He asked the amendment of the license ordinance to put them on the

LONG BEACH PSYCHOLOGIST IS VERY, VERY "BROKE."

Testifies in Court That He Has No Property, "No Nothing," Except a Few Cents for Car Fare—Creditor With Eight Thousand Dollar Judgment Looks Exceedingly Sad.

If the evidence given yesterday by Dr. W. H. Price of Long Beach, leader in the Psychological Society of that city, is true, his case should appeal to the charitably inclined everywhere.

It has for a long time been popularly supposed that Dr. Price was a man of financial substance; the calm and deliberate manner in which he strokes his patriarchal beard makes him look like one of the fathers of Israel, with cattle on a thousand hills, but in Judge Hervey's court yesterday he declared under oath that he had nothing in the world except a few shares of mining stock and some small change—street-car fare, as he put it.

The busy doctor, who testified that his present occupation was the sale of mining stock, was in court for examination under supplementary proceedings, to see if the attorneys employed by J. M. Sewell could find anything wherewith to pay an execution for about $8000 secured by Sewell some time ago against Price and R. R. Christie. He invested in stock of the National Gold Dredging Company. The officers could find nothing upon which to lay their hands.

After a lot of sparring, Dr. Price was at last gotten down to the brass tacks of examination, but his exhibitions of loss of memory were pitiable. The witness could really not recollect anything. He was probably certain that he was alive, but he would not have lain too heavy odds on that proposition.

Dr. Price admitted that at the time the Citizens' Savings Bank of Long Beach was in the hands of the receiver that he had a certificate of deposit calling for $4000, but of that amount he sold $2500 to B. F. Daggett for $2000 and the balance to his wife, out he really could not recall what his wife paid him. At one time he was a stockholder in the Psychological Temple Building Association, holding 1000 shares, but really he could not recall what he had done with the stock, or if he sold it what it paid him. He said that he had no property of any sort, except $0,000 shares of the Virgin Placer Mining Company, an Oregon corporation, supposed to be worth $1 a share, but the supposition was a violent one, as the company had not paid the tax in California and could do no business here.

He had no money in any bank, possessed no diamonds, and declared that his wife owned the property where they resided in Long Beach. His memory was so poor that he could not recall when he had deeded it to her, or what, if anything, she had paid him. So far as he knew, no one had any property that belonged to him, although he was not so awfully sure, as his memory was so treacherous. The doctor smilingly said that he had absolutely no money. "Oh, well, perhaps a few cents for car fare," he corrected as he gazed benevolently about him.

R. R. Christie, jointly responsible for the Sewell judgment, who resides at the Willows, said that he had nothing with which to satisfy the judgment. He had been compelled to mortgage his home in order to pay the attorneys for defending him in the Sewell cases. His home was in his wife's name. There was a good deal of sympathy for Christie, even if he did unload the worthless stock on Sewell, his nephew, on the ground that "Uncle" Christie wanted to do something nice for his relative from Missouri.

But Dr. Price, he looked as innocent as an unborn babe, and J. M. Sewell, who holds the unsatisfied judgment for nearly $8000, asked plaintively as the court adjourned for the day, "What do you know about that?" He admits that his hard-earned money is burned up.

SCHOOL SITE FIGHT.

CARRIED INTO THE COURTS.

The contention in evidence in Alhambra school affairs for some time, broke out in the Superior Court yesterday when E. L. Watkins brought an action against John L. Chase, Frank E. Williams and Elmer E. Bailey, individually and as trustees of the Alhambra school district, Title Insurance and Trust Company, and Mark Keppel, County Superintendent of Schools in Los Angeles county, to restrain the proposed purchase of a third lot for school site purposes.

Judge Hutton granted a temporary injunction restraining the school board from the purchase of the five-acre tract for $12,500, on Granada street, Alhambra, and the hearing of the matter was set for the 21st inst. The injunction was presented to the office of the County Superintendent just in time to hold up the warrant for the purchase of the property in question.

In the petition filed by Watkins it is alleged that he is the head of a family in the Alhambra school district, has a residence there, and is the owner of property within the boundaries of the school district. It is further alleged that there are already two schoolhouses within the district; that on February 10, 1910, the defendants contracted with William Garland for lot No. 8, Alhambra tract, for $12,500; that the money has been placed in escrow with the Title Insurance and Trust Company, to be delivered to Garland upon the passing of the deeds. It is asserted that no meeting has ever been called by the Alhambra school directors to locate a site for the third school building, neither have the trustees been advised by the voters and tax payers to purchase such a site.

The prayer of the petition is that the defendants be enjoined from purchasing the land; that the Title Insurance and Trust Company be enjoined from delivering to Garland the warrant for the purchase price, and that Mark Keppel be enjoined from indorsing the warrant so placed in escrow.

About six months ago there was a meeting held in the Alhambra Board of Trade, when it was almost unanimously voted to call a bond election for the purpose of purchasing additional land at the Marengo school and a new school site.

CIRCUS WET GOODS.

STILL IN THE COURTS.

The contest involving the settlement of a judgment secured against ex-Chief of Police Dishman when, last April, as Chief, he made a raid on the Sells-Floto Circus, and captured a lot of liquor of various tastes and grades, toon an order to show cause why the official should not pay the judgment rendered against him some time ago.

When the stuff was captured for violation of the license laws of Los Angeles, the claim for the goods was transferred to Attorney R. J. Adcock, who brought an action against Dishman to recover the value of the confiscated goods. Judgment was rendered against the defendant for $775, on a technical ground, and an execution was issued for the satisfaction of the judgment.

It was stated in court that an offer had been accepted for the tender of the goods as full satisfaction for the judgment, but that after the beer had become stale, the gas had escaped from the expensive champagne, and the roulette wheel had gone out of fashion, the agreement was rescinded by the plaintiff in the action. Inasmuch, therefore, as all of the goods could not be delivered, according to the scheduled items, it was desired that the defendant should pay the judgment in money.

On the part of the officer it was alleged that through some misunderstanding he never did have the amount of stuff that the list called for; that during the time since the capture, he has not had personal charge of the liquors; that the tender was made in good faith to turn over the whisky and wines in satisfaction of the judgment, and accepted by the representatives of the plaintiff, Adcock, and the latter should have nothing but what he agreed to take—the goods instead of the money.

The court dismissed the order to show cause without prejudice, and leave was granted to file a new order along the same line.

ALLEGES SELF-DEFENSE.

HURLEY MURDER TRIAL BEGINS.

Judge Willis and a jury in Department Eleven began hearing the testimony in the James Hurley murder case yesterday afternoon, and the matter will likely be concluded tonight. Hurley is charged with shooting Lewis E. Gallagher, on the night of October 11 last, in the rear of No. 1615 Naud street. Self-defense is the defense offered by Hurley for the crime.

The history of the incident, as outlined by the attorneys, shows that Hurley and Mrs. A. M. Heister were childhood friends in San Francisco, where they were born and raised. Six years ago they met in this city, but Hurley's young sweetheart had married in the meantime and was the mother of a number of children. The pair were such good friends that Hurley went to live at the Heister home, but the husband was a very jealous man, and he immediately left his wife and family, placing the burden on the shoulders of Hurley, which he willingly assumed, calling upon Mrs. Heister and the children very often for old friendship sake.

Then Gallagher came into the play. He was looking for a good, nice, quiet place to board, and the Heister home was recommended to him. The presence of Gallagher did not please Hurley, and on several occasions a rough-house resulted on account of their joint desire to remain in undisputed possession of things there. On the night of the murder, the quarrel was a bitter one, and, it is alleged, in behalf of the accused, that Gallagher pulled a gun and was about to shoot Hurley when the latter shot him dead in his tracks, in self-defense, as he will testify.

OLD SOLDIER'S WILL.

INVOLVED IN LAWSUIT.

The case filed in the Superior Court yesterday, in which Albert M. Norton, special administrator, is plaintiff, and P. Hawe is defendant, indicates the view of an old man as to what he should do with his savings. Thomas O'Donnell, an inmate of the Soldiers' Home, died July 22, 1906. On March 13 he had made a will under the terms of which he bequeathed to Ellen Burke, daughter of his niece, Mary Burke, $100; all the balance of his small estate to be divided between Mary Burke, a niece, his sister, Mary O'Donnell; a niece, Delia Kennedy, and a nephew, Thomas Kennedy. Mary Burke was appointed executor of the estate.

Albert M. Norton was appointed special administrator, but some months prior to the death of the decedent, it appears he gave to P. Hawe a friend, all the money he had in the world, amounting to $645. It was understood that Hawe was to hold it as a trustee for the heirs named in the will.

With the appointment of Norton's administrator, he made a demand upon Hawe for the money, and he now refuses to pay it over, claiming that as trustee he is holding it for the beneficiaries under the will. So Norton has entered suit against Hawe to collect it.

NO MORE DIVORCES.

JUDGE RESTS UNTIL MAY.

Judge Hutton in the Superior Court took occasion to announce from the bench yesterday that until the divorce calendar came to him in the regular way, May 1, he would have no more divorce hearings in his department. There has been some pressure upon the court on the part of eager attorneys to make an exception in their cases, and hear actions really out of their turn, and he has complied with their request on several occasions.

But there will be no more of it, the efforts of Judge Hutton being devoted, so far as the divorce calendar is concerned, to the setting of cases subsequent to May 1, when under the rules adopted by the Superior Court judges, Department Four will have exclusive jurisdiction of the divorce industry. In the meantime Judge Houser will have exclusive control of all divorces.

UNUSUAL ACTION.

SUES FATHER FOR SUPPORT.

An action quite out of the ordinary was filed in the Superior Court yesterday by Earle D. Goff against his father, James B. Goff, asking that the defendant be compelled by the court to support the plaintiff, who, it is alleged, has been for years hopelessly sick and unable to care for himself. The son is 25 years of age, and claims to be sick of an incurable disease, with no ability to make money sufficient for his support.

The son says that his father is a man of robust health, that he has plenty of money, and lives alone in Sawtelle. He asks that he be required to maintain the plaintiff to the extent of his ability, and such as the needs of the son may be.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

ALLOWED TO MORTGAGE. Judge Wilbur yesterday allowed the petition of the Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Angelica Church to mortgage its property for $11,000. The money is to be used in acquiring adjoining property needed by the congregation.

RECOMMENDED TO MERCY. The jury in Judge Willis's court considering the charge against Ysidro Sais of killing Natavidad Ogas, brought in a verdict last evening, finding Sais guilty of manslaughter, and the accused was recommended to the mercy of the court. Sais will be sentenced Thursday morning. The verdict is understood to have been a compromise defense. The murder occurred on Aliso street, and was the outcome of bad feeling that had existed between the men for a long time.

SULLIVAN FREE AGAIN. Stephen Sullivan, the erring attorney, who has been in jail since the holidays on a charge of violation of his parole, was yesterday allowed to go by Judge Bordwell on the solemn promise that he will in the future abstain from the use of liquor. It is understood that while in jail Sullivan took the liquor cure, and his friends think he is now proof against the appetite that has brought him down to disgrace.

SMALL CRIMINALS. In Judge Willis's court yesterday the matter of allowing Edward Harrtig, who pleaded guilty to burglary some time ago, to go free on probation, was postponed until Friday. Ramon Ruiz, charged with burglary, has had his mental condition looked into somewhat by the court, and his case will be disposed of tomorrow. Ruiz said he pleaded guilty to the charge because he had no money, although he did recall that when he awoke from a stupor he had on a hat that did not belong to him.

BOTH HIDING OUT. Judge Houser heard a short session of the Brunner case yesterday, and will take another hitch at it a week hence. The action was brought originally by Louise Brunner against Herman Brunner, to compel him to maintain her at the rate of $1000 a month. Brunner did not appear, and a citation was issued for him, which is not yet satisfied, as he cannot be located, it is stated. Then Mrs. Brunner was ordered by the court to answer certain questions put to her in a deposition, and in order to avoid committing herself, it is alleged the woman has locked herself up in her magnificent Alhambra home, and refuses to be seen by any one. It seems to be a case of hide and seek all around.

HUSBAND REMEMBERED. By the provisions of the will of Mabel H. Crow, who died January 15, and filed yesterday, an annuity of $200 is given John Beiler, an uncle of the decedent, and the balance of the estate, estimated to value $25,000, is left to the surviving husband, S. S. Crow.

ALL TO WIDOW. The will of Bernard Brosterhaus, filed for probate yesterday, disposed of an estate valued at $15,000, all of it going to the widow of the decedent, Elizabeth Brosterhaus.

SHE LEFT NO WILL. A petition was filed in the Probate Court yesterday to appoint John Alfred Barnard, the widower, administrator of the estate of Julia Fletcher Barnard, who died February 11, leaving property scheduled to value $500,000. It consists of money, stocks, bonds, jewelry, and a large piece of land in San Diego county. Mrs. Barnard died intestate. Her surviving heirs, in addition to her husband, are Hilda Fletcher Barnard, aged 8; Julia Barnard, aged 6, and Agnes Helma Barnard, aged 5.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by the Dolomite Marble Company, capital stock $240,000, incorporators G. N. McCullough, R. R. Thompson, Thomas C. Bundy, D. M. Shanks and Paran F. Price, subscribed $5; Odd Sash and Door Company, capital stock $30,000, incorporators Theodore Boye, Anne M. Boye, William F. Doyle, Richard F. Davis and Forestine Hooker, subscribed $5; Coöperation Investment Company, capital stock $200,000, incorporators Leamon H. Judson, John W. Neighbors, James E. Pearce, B. D. Neighbors and Mrs. Edith E. Neighbors, subscribed $125.

MAINTENANCE SUIT. An action was brought by Edna J. Thomas against Ward J. Thomas, to compel the latter to furnish maintenance for the wife and two children. They were married in Los Angeles in September, 1906, and it is alleged that Thomas deserted and abandoned his wife in October, 1909. It is now claimed that the $30 a month he has been giving for the support of the wife and children is not sufficient, and the plaintiff asks the court to fix an additional amount.

WIFE GETS DECREE. Judge Houser yesterday decided the action brought by Sarah A. Lemon for a divorce from W. S. Lemon, in favor of the wife, who has been bed-ridden at her home near Whittier for more than twelve years. Judge Houser went out of his way to get at the true situation in this case, making the trip to the bedside of the wife, where a deposition was taken. Lemon is a well-to-do land owner, but for some

Boston Banker Spent Eight Years I

Carleton H. Hutchinson, a leading banker and broker of Boston, with offices at 8 Congress street, in that city, has recently come out with a very strong statement.

In the widespread discussion over Cooper's new theory and medicines, which has spread over the country so rapidly, Mr. Hutchinson has taken the side of those who say that Cooper's theory is correct and his medicine all that he claims.

Mr. Hutchinson's emphatic statement is as follows: "Anyone afflicted with chronic ill health and a general run-down condition caused by stomach trouble, who does not try this man Cooper's medicine, is very foolish. I say this after a most remarkable experience with the medicine.

"I heard of Cooper's success first when he was in Chicago, as I have a private wire to that city in connection with my business. Later, when he came East, I learned more of him and his theory that stomach trouble causes most ill health. THE PRESIDENT'S FIRM STAND.

It is an unsafe thing for any person to speak too promptly about Mr. Taft. The President is too self-contained, reflective and considerate in his actions to enable one to guess just exactly what he is going to do.

He has been in office now nearly a year and it is about time that his would-be critics learned wisdom for their own sake. He had scarcely got comfortably fixed in his chair of office when a great cry went up from many quarters about the slow action of the President; and this continues with some abatement.

Whenever the President acts he creates throughout the country a silence that may be felt for a while on the part of his critics. Mr. Taft always does exactly what they did not expect him to do, what they said he would not do. The latest and longest speech he ever made in his life settles a whole lot of matters in which his enemies were very much interested.

There is one thing the American citizen who is not prejudicially antagonistic to the President is sure of. When the President acts he will do what is right. In his year of official life he has made no misstep.

Two things the President may be relied upon to do. The first is to execute without rancor, spite or bitterness every law upon the statute books put there by the Federal Congress. These laws will be enforced against all alike. The rich man will be as safe as the poor man if he is obeying the law; and no man, rich or poor, will be safe if he is breaking the law. The second thing we may rely upon the President to do is to use every means in his power to have every promise made by his party kept as nearly as possible to the letter. The first part of the programme the President controls absolutely. It is his business to enforce the law, and no man can say him nay, nor will any man be permitted to suggest nay to him in this respect. As to the second part of the programme, the President is not absolutely master of the situation. The party platform promised certain new legislation. The President has recommended that laws be passed in order to keep these promises. But the President cannot pass laws. That he will use every proper influence upon Congressmen to get these laws passed we may be sure; but let no hotspur of reform expect that Mr. Taft will do anything that is not both proper and legal in order to coerce the action of any member of Congress. He stands for every measure of reform the party promised and he will urge the fulfilling of the party promises in the fullness of their spirit.

WONDERS NEVER CEASE.

A London dispatch published in these columns a few days ago stated that John Redmond has declared that Ireland does not ask or even desire separation from Great Britain. "Miracles will never cease," as the Irishman said when he saw a negro priest.

Whoever thought to witness the day that an accredited leader of the Irish people would take this stand, backed, as Redmond doubtless is, by the sentiment of the Nationalists of Ireland? Redmond has gone farther than O'Connell, who, Conservative though he was, would never have admitted that separation was not desirable.

Ireland has grown wise. To ask her to forget would be to ask too much, indeed; but that she has arrived at a stage in her history where she is willing to make the best of a bad job cannot but bring happiness to her well-wishers. No matter how much the Irish might desire to cut loose from the United Kingdom, they are not strong enough to carry that desire through. And, leaving all that aside, Ireland would be vastly better off as an integral part of the British empire than as an isolated kingdom or republic. But, of course, she cannot remain a willing part of the empire unless she gets the square deal which England seems willing at last to give her.

But, at the same time, Redmond's statement is a great surprise. It brings back the memory of centuries red with blood and bitter with hatreds. Last year no man would ever think to see the day when the two countries could live amicably together. But the day has come. And it is a good day—good for Ireland and good for England.

EASY MONEY NOW.

There is inspiration in the news that promoters interested in the reclamation of overflowed lands along the Sacramento River have just secured a loan of $5,000,000 in London. We need money in California, and the more of it we get legitimately the more rapid will be our development. London is one of the cheapest money markets in the world and it is to our advantage to borrow money in such a market. It has not been easy to get money for California purposes so far away until now, but there will probably be little difficulty hereafter where the purpose is legitimate and the security good.

The Parliamentary election in England is not very decisive one way or the other, but the fact that it is not a clear protest against Lloyd George's taxation scheme will unsettle the minds of many capitalists in London.

We often complain of taxes in California. The assessment put upon real property in the United States is about 50 per cent. of the figure at which it is held by owners. The aggregate taxes levied amount to about 3 per cent. on the assessed valuation. That is about 1½ per cent. on the actual holding value of the property. At that rate it would take two generations with us for any piece of property to have its real value eaten up in taxation. With the increase in the value of real estate going on in the United States generally, and particularly in California, the taxes would not eat up the value of a piece of real estate in 100 years. The taxation in England is so immense and so much of it falls upon improved property and actual assets in movables that the taxes eat up the value of some property every ten years, and probably there is little in the United Kingdom that the taxes do not swallow once in at least twenty years.

There is no sign of relief in Great Britain. With us the growth of population and the enhancement of real estate values, with anything like a wise and honest handling of public affairs, should result in a continual lowering of our tax rate. In Great Britain there is no such general enhancement of values. With the navy to maintain, the army expenses to meet, the building of new Dreadnoughts, the Radical government's old-age pensions amounting to $50,000,000 a year, the keeping of Lloyd George's promise to spend $15,000,000 a year in enforced public works to furnish employment to the indigent, it looks like an everlasting heaping of Pelion upon Ossa in the way of taxes. England derives but little revenue from duties on imports, hence all taxation must fall upon the people of the kingdom.

For many years capitalists in Great Britain have been seeking investments abroad in order to escape this enormous load of taxation. As the taxes pile up more capital will be forced out of the United Kingdom.

Many Californians have shown much interest in the success of the Radical party in England, but they are not of the class that see the advantages to flow to us from the continuance of the Radical party in power over there.

We recently met two men of exactly opposite experiences. One had not remained longer than twenty-four hours at a time in any one place dur-

BANKS GETTING WISE.

The New York banks are getting wise in their old age. There has scarcely been a financial panic in America in a hundred years whose roots did not reach down into the poisonous soil of unwise speculation. The stock exchanges of New York, Chicago and San Francisco have produced more bankruptcies than all other causes put together since America became a nation.

We are not of those who think it is any of the government's business how citizens conduct their own business, provided it is done honestly. Speculation may be foolish, but we contend it need not be dishonest. Until the line between honesty and dishonesty is crossed, the law has nothing to do with a man's use of his money, whether speculatively or otherwise.

It is different with the banks. It is their business first of all to know exactly what a borrower is doing with his money. People unaccustomed to deal with banks are often resentful when they ask a loan and the question comes back: "What do you want to do with the money?" A good banker always wants to know what his client is going to do with his money. The banks of New York are particularly interested in the stock exchanges. The manipulation of the stock market, boosting prices beyond all reasonable values and depressing them in the other way as far beyond the market, cause all sorts of trouble in the financial market, and from that it reaches to industrial enterprises.

If the plungers in the New York and Chicago stock exchanges are kept in proper restraint there is money enough in the country for all legitimate purposes. It is the bankers' business to see that this restraint is maintained.

How many broken hearts as well as fortunes were made in San Francisco in the old days when the stock exchange on Pine street was in all its glory, or infamy, from whichever point of view you regard it! Half a dozen men manipulated stocks without regard for their merits or real value, and the people bought stocks or sold them as the market went up and down, wiping out the savings of years in an hour and converting happy homes into seats of misery.

There is no power on earth to deal with this wrong, outside of the offices of presidents and directors who manage big banking concerns. The welfare of the financial and industrial world is in their hands and it behooves them to show their knowledge of their own business by safeguarding the interests of the people.

UNCLE WALT, WARBLER.

BY UNCLE WALT MASON OF EMPORIA.

When Grover the Statesman.

The merchant said, in caustic tones: "James Henry Charles Augustus Jones, please get your pay and leave the store; I will not need you any more. Important chores you seem to shun; you're always leaving work undone; and when I ask the reason why, you heave a sad and soulful sigh and idly scratch your dome of thought and feebly say: 'Oh, I forgot!' James Henry Charles Augustus Jones, this world's a poor resort for drones, for men with heads so badly set that their long suit is to forget. No man will ever write his name upon the shining wall of fame, or soar aloft on glowing wings, because he can't remember things. I've noticed that such chaps as you remember when your pay is due; and when the noontime whistles throb, your memory is on the job; and when a holiday's at hand, your recollection isn't canned. The failures on life's busy way, the paupers, friendless, wan and gray, throughout their bootless days, like you, forgot the things they ought to do. So take your coat and draw your bones, James Henry Charles Augustus Jones!"

"WHAT DOES THE MEADOW LARK SAY?"

The grass of the meadow is wet to the lark,
But his carol is joyous and clear
As he sings from a dream in the rose-cloven dark
And senses the sunlight is near.

He's in love with the morning, the blush of the mist,
The sigh of the wakening air;
And the song is so grateful that none may resist
The charm of his melody rare.

"Ah—h-h! Sweet—life is so sweet!"
Reechoes from valley to hills—
The voice in the dawn, ineffable, fleet,
And strong with a glory that thrills.

Meadow lark, give me your mood of the morn—
Warm in the sun-woven mist—
A heart full of gaiety ever new-born,
And a melody none may resist!

How to Bring Down Prices.

If anybody is hunting for lower prices let him do as other hunters do. Let him repair to the haunts of the game he wants, and there aim straight at the object:

Causes for high prices are not far to find. They lurk where many others that vex us come from. They are within us—in unbridled desire, snobbish imitations; in the ease with which we accept suggestions rather than take the trouble to think things out for ourselves.

He who curbs and controls his desires will keep his expenses within his income. Not our needs, but our wants, expand our expenditures and tip the balance against us. If we had that self-mastery which insisted that our needs and not our desires should govern our material expenses, there would be no such disproportion between demand and supply as there is today.

Desires make demand. Denial makes supply. Few ever suffer from self-discipline in the interest of simpler living and saner thinking.—[Wall Street Journal.

Educator Advises Parents to Teach Boys to Fight.

"The savage in every boy should be developed as well as the finer instincts of civilized life. Teach him to fight. It will not hurt him; he will be the better for it."

Discussing "Child Psychology" before the members of the St. Paul Institute, Prof. M. V. O'Shea of Wisconsin University gave this advice and followed it with the statement that every child is a savage.

Commenting on the tendency to mold children to their surroundings, he said the cities are the worst offenders, and gave it as his opinion that only two children in a hundred in population centers are perfectly normal.—[Minneapolis Journal.

Henry B. Harris is president, and the board of directors of which includes such prominent metropolitan managers as Daniel Frohman, Henry W. Savage, William A. Brady and Joseph Brooks of the firm of Klaw & Erlanger. Mr. Blackwod is the first stock manager of the country to be thus honored.

The stage of the Burbank Theater presented an unusually busy appearance yesterday morning when rehearsals began of David Belasco's sparkling comedy, "Sweet Kitty Bellairs," which will follow "Cameo Kirby" at Oliver Morosco's Main-street stock house. The play requires the services of about forty extra players, most of whom have lines to speak. There were sixty-three applicants for places, a majority of them women. Not all of them were assigned definitely, but each was given an opportunity to show what he or she could do, the assignments to be made later. Rehearsals were conducted under two directors, David M. Hartford of the Burbank company, and J. B. Vaughn, who is associated with David Belasco in New York City, and who has come to Los Angeles to direct the ensemble dancing and singing numbers which are features of the comedy. "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" has never been seen in Los Angeles. It is a dramatization by Mr. Belasco of certain incidents in Agnes and Edgerton Castle's novel, "The Bath Comedy."

Preparations for the reception to be given President Taft at Newark, N. J., a week from Wednesday, when he will be the guest of the Board of Trade at its annual banquet, are already well under way. The outdoor reception will be elaborate.

Georgia's State Chemist Praises Cottolene.

Mr. J. H. McCandless, State Chemist of Georgia, before a recent gathering gave emphatic testimony to the high quality of Cottolene. He said:

"The sale of this product, and the proclamation that it is made from cotton seed oil, have done more to bring cotton seed oil truthfully and favorably before the people than anything else in recent history.

Mr. McCandless then pointed out why a pure refined vegetable oil base,

Ridiculous reductions on Robe patterns

Cost gets no consideration in this clean-up of robe patterns and lace coats—our only care has been to make the prices so absurdly low that every garment which has over-stayed its welcome will find a wearer immediately.

$250 robe patterns of messaline, elaborately trimmed with Cluny lace and Irish Crochet over Filet, now $75.

$165 robe pattern of chiffon and taffeta, richly embroidered in silk, for $50.

$225 robe pattern of velvet, elaborately appliqued, now $75.

$200 imported robe pattern of hand-embroidered chiffon, $75.

$75 robe patterns of appliqued messalines, $35.

$75 robe patterns of French mull, beautifully embroidered, $35; and some $50 ones at $20.

$45 robe patterns of embroidered mousseline de soie, $25.

$27.50 to $40 robe patterns of embroidered pique at $15.

$75 embroidered silk net jackets at $25.

$60 lace coats, in black and white, at $25.

$40 lace coats at $15.

Lot $35 to $75 spangled robes at $20 to $35.

Only half the regular yardage price to pay for any remnant length of lace or dress trimming.

Redfern Whalebone Corsets

"WHAT'S IN A NAME"

CORSETICALLY, it means everything, as the maker must live up to his trade-mark. If he fails to do so, thousands, yes millions, are sacrificed. He may not feel the loss at once, but eventually he becomes a back number. The makers of Redfern Corsets put into their corsets two of the biggest factors in the fashion world—Redfern, the known fashion maker, and Whalebone, the only boning product acknowledged by dress authorities as the only boning entirely satisfactory for shaping and modeling purposes. Whalebone in this trade-mark means the Genuine Whalebone of the purest quality, especially selected for corsets, and it comes from the region of the North Pole. Per pair $3.50 TO $10.00

Last Opportunity for $30 Ostermoors $18.50

We have just put in stock the last shipment we shall be able this year to obtain of the special Ostermoor Mattresses to sell at eighteen-fifty, so if you want one, we advise you to make selection early. Out of the first large shipment received, only half a dozen were left when these came in, which goes to show how popular is the offer:

These mattresses sell regularly for $30.00; they are the most luxurious styles made by the Ostermoor factory—French roll edges, extra thick, extra heavy, extra soft; full size, in one or two parts, as you like; covered with finest French art twills in several shades; special February sale price for these $30 mattresses $18.50

Choicest Blankets in Clearance at $17.50

Enjoyable Affair.

An enjoyable affair of recent date was the progressive dinner given by members of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority of the University of Southern California. The first course was served at the chapter house, No. 3553 South Hoover street, where acacia blossoms were used to advantage. The next home visited was that of Miss Mabel Chaffin of West Thirty-first street and then the residence of Miss Bowens Hall. Red carnations, the sorority flower, and smilax adorned Miss Hall's home and places were marked with cards bearing the sorority emblem. Miss Katherine Saunders of West Twentieth street was the next hostess.

The last course was served in the historic old log cabin on West Adams street. Noteworthy Announcement.

Senator and Mrs. Sutherland of Utah yesterday announced the engagement in Washington of their daughter, Edith, to A. Robert Elmore of New York, manager of the Los Angeles branch of the banking house of N. W. Halsey of New York. The wedding will take place during the first week in May, and will be solemnized in St. Margaret's Church, Washington. Bridesmaids have already been chosen from members of the most exclusive set in Washington, but their names have not yet been announced. Congress will be in session at the time, and as none of the smart set will have left for the summer, it is certain to be one of the most notable society events of the year, with a large attendance of notables in diplomatic, military and Congress set, and society people from New York to California.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN.

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

Remember the old autograph al-ms? Well, they're "in" again. Not same old kind with such senti-nts as "May hope brighten the fu-e, and memory gild the past," or, poetic effusion like

May your life be like a river,
Pure and peaceful in its flow,
May you ever be happy
While you journey here below."

o, no—not that kind, but the new, to-date 1910 autograph album. ere are several sorts, one of the erest I have seen being the hosts of My Friends" pattern. The er day a sweet young girl whom I ow handed me such a book and ed me to inscribe my "ghost." I nced through the volume and be-d there the autographs of several my friends inscribed beneath a atly blur of a pen and ink sketch which the spinal verte brae was t conspicuous.

Why, they must be regular art-s," I said. "I can't draw a 'ghost' e that."

The young girl laughed. "Yes you n," she said, handing me a pen-dding ink, and at the same time ding the leaf of the album length-se across the middle.

Now, you just write your name t below the line of the crease I've de," she directed, "and I'll do the t."

followed instructions and she im-diately folded the leaf down at the ase, using it as a blotter on the sh written name. When she raised and turned the page toward me, I in't recognize myself—or my ghost. haps I should say. You try it and u will be surprised to see what a ostly form your autograph will as-me.

ver in London they have whole ts of autograph albums, five being e correct number. Sometimes the tim is blindfolded and then made that London society is amusing itself by tattooing its arms and shoulders. Odd how extremes meet in the same city. Over there in London, for instance, one set of women shouting for suffrage and another killing time by making sepia prints on their arms. Well, wasn't it George Eliot who said "There must be some of some such to be some of all such" in commenting on the wide difference in human temperaments?

Cleanliness Is Cheapest.

We're getting very sanitary—in the home, the hotel, the place of business. Time was when the glass-topped table was not seen outside the hospitals. Now it is a common thing. I noticed yesterday in a little café where I chanced to lunch that each table was covered with a sheet of glass under which was a pretty doily. After the table was used it was wiped clean ready for the next patron.

Fancy the difference it makes in the matter of laundry, too. The pretty doilies, protected by the glass covers, always look fresh and clean—and will keep so indefinitely and it's lots less work to wipe off the glass top than to wash and iron tablecloths and doilies.

It happened that I next visited a hairdressing establishment and I noticed there, too, that the sanitary sheets of glass were brought into play covering the shelves beneath the mirrors and the little tables and stands where the brushes and combs and hairpins lie.

Then we have the glass-covered serving trays which are such a comfort to the housewife and such a saving of doilies, for the pretty French cretonne or dainty lace or water-color sketch which shows through the glass is always fresh and never has to be laundered.

Some Pertinent Pointers.

The buyer for one of our largest dry collars, now in the cold winter weather low necks, short sleeves and Dutch collars prevail. "I was trying to sell them at half price in Los Angeles before I left," he writes, "and now I shall have to buy some again."

Pretty good tip. Let's buy up all we can see before those astute merchants get next. If you go bargain hunting today you will find just such waists offered at reduced rates.

Continuing, the buyer tells me that while there is much talk about the Russian blouse in women's suits and they are newer, yet the majority of duplicate orders are for plainer styles and the plaited skirts instead of the new apron or surplice affairs.

"Many manufacturers," he continues, "feel that they are fast going back to separate waists and skirts. While dressmakers talk this style down, it is too practical and convenient to cast aside, hence women will wear them. Among all the new colors and fabrics, grays in nice woolen and worsteds and navy blues are the leaders."

The Greatest Thing in the World.

The dispatch, printed in The Times the other day, telling of the perfect happiness and absolute content of a woman, who, all her past life has been a social leader in New York and Newport, and is now living with the man of her choice in a miner's cabin, away up in Plumas county, shut off from the rest of the world, and compelled by the heavy snows to live on beans, salt pork, hardtack and canned goods, is another exeplification that, after all's said and done, love is the greatest thing in the life of a woman. This woman cast aside her brilliant prospects as an operatic singer, and is quite content to reign instead as mistress of the mine superintendent's cabin up in the snowbound fastnesses of the mountains. "I never was happy before," she declares.

Proper Care of the Sewing Machine.

Probably not one woman in a dozen knows how to properly oil and care for her faithful friend—the sewing machine. A Berkeley woman, who is a visiting dressmaker, gives some valuable hints on this subject in the current issue of Harper's Bazar. She declares that not one woman in a hundred seems to know what causes her machine to "run hard," or how to remedy it. Oiling the machine with kerosene would seem to be their only idea. Such treatment will ease the machine for a few hours, but the housemother does not seem to know that machine oil and kerosene mixed makes a very delicious paste. It is not hard to picture the works of a machine when kerosene is applied to "loosen" the oil already on the works. The resulting friction is very bad for the complicated parts of the machinery.

On one of those lonesome days, advises this wise woman, when you have "nothing to do," open your macaine and move it to a sunny window, (it can't be too warm.) Fill your oil can with clean machine oil and place it in a pan of water on the stove until it is heated to the boiling point. (This double-boiler arangement is safe and easy.) Then oil your warmed machine thoroughly with the hot oil. Oil every joint from the bobbin-winder to the "foot." Wipe off the superfluous oil and your machine is in good condition for six months.

For the Separate Waist.

A favorite fabric for the separate waist which promises to have a great vogue this spring and summer is marquisette, which lends itself so admirably to a dye that matches or harmonizes with the suit to accompany it. It gives too, that transparent effect so much sought after.

Then there is a new material known as "air-line cloth," which is really a washable chiffon that has the merit of being lovelier each time it is laundered.

Laces and Lingerie.

One of the most stunning of the evening hats is an immense tricorne or natural colored straw, trimmed with a huge, white bird.

Net petticoats are of satin merveilleux, finished with a fringe of silk braid, a quarter of a yard deep, headed, with netted silk.

A new yet simple lingerie blouse is made of eyelet embroidery, with scallops turned upward toward the yoke and overlapping it.

No lace will be more popular for trimming summer wash dresses than Valenciennes. It will be used wherever there is a chance to put it on.

For afternoon and theater wear the popular hat is the one with a silk or velvet stretched crown, and a brim, either rolling or flat, of fur.

There is an arrangement of ribbon and lace on the silk lining of transparent blouses which has the appearance of a lingerie corset cover.

A really new sleeve style is after the Charles VII fashion. It is of filet net, put into pleits that slant from the shoulder to the wrist.

Of all the trimmings employed this winter, beaded nets and embroideries are the favorite expression, as they offer numberless combinations.

Chamois dyed to match the color of the gown is being used for girdles and belts. The more barbaric looking the girdle, the more stylish it is.

Checked opaline taffetas, which reflect the colors of a shattered rainbow, are liked for afternoon wear, veiled discretly with neutral-tinted mousseline.

The cottonball fringe, sometimes quite elaborately knotted, is being much used as a finish to table covers, as well as to bed spreads and for window drapery.

The sailor collar of fur has been much favored this winter and it is not surprising that this marine suggestion should be used on many of the silk and linen suits.

Children's styles are strongly Napoleonic. They as well as their mothers, are wearing the military coat without the capes, fastened up the side, with heavy gold or braid frogs.

White cotton crepe will be used quite as much this spring and summer as last year. Some waists of this material are now seen, rich with elaborate designs, embroidered in colors.

As a happy medium, between the high waist line of the directoire period and the low line of the moyenage, the girdle, more attractive than ever, has been placed on many of the newest gowns.

Elaborations have reached the skirts and in place of the long plain draperies, which were so plentiful last year, one finds now skirts that are as much mazes of needlework of one kind or another as the waists.

TO GUARD COUNTY'S CASH.

Supervisors Much Interested in Selection of System for Protection. Trip of Inspection.

The Supervisors went on an investigation tour yesterday afternoon to familiarize themselves with the systems for protecting safes, it having been proposed to install one for the purpose of safeguarding the funds in the County Treasurer's office.

They were much pleased with a safe proposition submitted a week ago, and asked for the opinion of Deputy Dist.-Atty. Shaw as to whether they could purchase it without advertising for bids.

J. H. Casier, representing the Safe, Vault & Protection Company, a local concern, which has been doing business about seven months, yesterday declared that his firm should be given a chance to compete for the installation of the system.

The Supervisors, after making many inquiries of him, decided they would like to see both systems in operation. It was learned that his company had equipped one of the banks at Monrovia and that another banking institution there had another system. It was decided that the investigation could be made easily in that city, and the board adjourned there.

The members had the satisfaction of hearing gongs of various descriptions and tones ring, and were shown how the bank president was notified at his home when there was the slightest touch on the safe after a certain hour.

It is likely the Supervisors will decide next week to open bids. They wish to get the system planned out as soon as possible, for in a short time the concrete work on the treasurer's office will be completed, and they do not desire to have to tear it out and put in conduits for cables to the Sheriff's office and County Jail.

you will find it clearly proved from Post-Office Department's own reports, it is totally unnecessary to put any tional tax on magazines and periodi and that a deficit of $17,500,000 chargeable to the periodicals.

• • • • • • • • • "For instance, the Post-Office Department is charging $13,821,100 of the cost of rural free delivery against the second-class mail. Now, rural free delivery was established as a matter of Government policy, and we believe in it, but it is not fair to charge one dollar of this expense against the magazines. It is undoubtedly of benefit to the daily newspapers, but the Department is trying to exempt them from an increase in rate. The magazines do not need or want once a day or twice a day deliveries on these rural routes.

"Page 256, Postmaster's Report, 1908, says: 'Franking privileges weighed 4,555,634 pounds. They certainly cost the average price of all mail in all ways. And Governmental matter for Departments other than the Post-Office weighed 18,644,010 pounds.'

"This report says that if the matter was charged at postal rates it would yield a revenue as follows:

Second-class	$ 531,560.94
Franked matter	3,987,546.44
Government matter	16,362,151.95
Total credit due Department	$20,881,259.33

"And that awful deficit disappears.

"It is impossible that a business of over $200,000,000 should not offer an opportunity for enormous savings. And a business like that of our great Postal Department, with endless ramifications, must offer endless opportunities.

• • • • • • • • • "No Postmaster-General entering his position to-day, with all the duties befalling a Cabinet official besides running his Department, no matter how great his intelligence or how fine his training, can grasp the details of this enormous business before he disappears. There is no time given to him to find these opportunities to save expense. The affairs of the Department must, for the most part, be administered by those under him."

CARS SMASHED IN COLLISION.

Dirt Clogged Brakes on Turn—One Passenger, a Little Girl, Is Considerably Shaken Up.

Dirt on the track at the curve of Sixth and Flower streets, one of the motormen explained, clogged the brakes on a Crown Hill car and caused it to smash into the rear end of a Washington street car. The Washington car, No. 417, was pretty badly damaged, the steps being knocked off and a hole smashed into the platform where the corner of the Crown Hill car, No. 892, struck it.

There were several passengers on each car, but Laura Miller, a child on the Washington car, with her father, was the only person injured. She was frightened and considerably shaken up, and was conveyed to her home, No. 1661 West Twentieth street.

The accident occurred at about 7 o'clock, when the Washington car was passing Flower street over a stretch of track that is being repaired. The Crown Hill car, in charge of Motorman T. Staley and Conductor J. Ernest, was about to turn into Sixth street from Flower street, and the motorman tried to stop his car to let the Washington car pass, but the dirt from the upturned street, he said, clogged the brakes and the heavy car swung into the curve, striking the Washington car. The rear truck of the Washington car was knocked off the track almost crosswise into the FIFTY BLISSFUL YEARS.

Minister and His Wife Celebrate Their Golden Wedding—Many Handsome Gifts Received.

Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Kline of No. 218 South Gates avenue, celebrated their golden wedding yesterday afternoon and evening. Many friends called to extend felicitations to the couple. Among the gifts were two handsome gold and silver spoons from occupants of the various Federal offices in the Tajo building, where Kline is bailiff in the United States Circuit and District Courts.

The Klines were married in Donovan county, Kansas, February 14, 1860. The husband served as chaplain during the Civil War. He and his wife have resided in or near Los Angeles for the last eighteen years.

Rev. Kline was pastor of the First Methodist Church of Santa Monica for a year, and held other pastorates in Southern California. He is 78 years of age, and his wife is ten years his junior.

BARBER'S FRIEND GIVES BAIL.

C. A. Sarber, an oil man of this city, who was arrested several days ago upon a fugitive warrant from Washington, charging him with passing a fictitious check, was arraigned a second time yesterday before the United States Commissioner. The new accusation is that he obtained money under false pretenses from persons living in Washington. The amount involved is understood to be small. Sarber professes his willingness to return to Washington to face the charges. He says he has papers that will clear him. Friends furnished bail yesterday afternoon on the new complaint.

EXPERTS ON BEES ARE NOW IN CONVENTION.

Phases of Important Industry of Southern California Taken Up in Discussions, Talks and Papers. Diseases Which Affect the Little Workers to Be Discussed Today.

Bees, their sting; honey, its uses; hives, their care, and beekeepers, all were under discussion, yesterday at the twentieth annual convention of the California Bee-Keepers' Association, which was called to order yesterday morning by B. G. Burdick, the president, in the assembly-room of the Chamber of Commerce building.

After a brief discussion of the affairs of the association and the reading of the minutes by Secretary A. B. Shaffner, the actual business of the convention was taken up, the reading of papers on the different phases of one of the large industries of this section of the State, which brings an annual revenue, according to the beemen, of $350,000, at least.

J. W. Ferree read one of the most important papers of the day, "Moving Bees." This moving question, according to Mr. Ferree, is one which has drawn a great deal of comment, as well as experiment from beekeepers in this State. The bees are moved at different seasons to bring them in closer proximity to the flower fields.

Mr. Ferree gave in detail the different methods of moving entire colonies of bees. "To move a few colonies a short distance, close their hives in the evening, when all the bees are in," he said. "Choose a damp, wet period, if possible. A little smoke blown in after the moving, to help daze them, some rough handling to give them an idea that something is doing, and a removal of all old landmarks from the old location of the hives, will assure the success of the operation," declared the reader.

He told how to provide the bees with water, how to prepare different frames, how to haul in wagons for considerable distances and how to load and unload.

"Returns may be largely increased by moving, but it necessitates considerable expense and hard work. The bees must be moved quickly as the flow of honey in the beans and alfalfa is on before that of sage is off. Moving from willows, eucalyptus, fruit trees to sage and buckwheat fields can be accomplished at a good profit if the distance is not too great," concluded Mr. Ferree.

"The Granulation of Honey and the Care of Comb Honey," was another important paper. Prof. A. J. Cook of Pomona College, deemed one of the leading experts in honey culture, was author of this. He declared that a temperature of 180 deg. will ripen the honey rapidly and prevent the dextrose and levulose of the honey from coming together rapidly and causing granulation.

"Freezing or even chilling green honey, just taken from the comb, will bring about the granulation which is so undesirable a feature to the man attempting to market his honey crop," said Prof. Cook.

J. W. George of Imperial Valley spoke on "Uncapping Honey and New Capping Devices."

Ralph Benton of the University of California, was present in the evening and delivered a stereopticon lecture on "The Business of Bee-Keeping." The various slides dealt with beekeeping in various parts of the United States, and in some parts of Europe. An important part of the president of the California Beekeepers' Association.

B. G. Burdick,

lecture showed the actual formation of the bee, of the honey combs and of the proper construction of hives.

Mr. Benton's father is one of the greatest bee experts in the world, having been at the head of the bee department of the Department of Agriculture at Washington for many years. His books are standard classics for the apiarists.

The concluding paper was one read by C. M. Richter of Santa Barbara, on the "Honey Producing Flora of Southern California." This morning's session will be given over to papers and discussions on various diseases which affect bees. In the afternoon the meeting will talk about "Wax; Its Production and Rendering."

WITNESS IN INVALID'S CHAIR.

Disease-Stricken Wife Tells Story of Cruel Desertion by Husband—Disability His Defense.

Mrs. Ida Hathaway was wheeled into Justice Pierce's court yesterday in order to testify against her husband, Arthur K. Hathaway, who was being examined on a charge of having failed to provide for her. She related a touching story of having been told by her husband that she must leave his house forever, even though her right side for several months has been paralyzed so that she cannot move it.

An unusual feature of the case was that the husband, too, had been stricken with a physical ailment. His right hand was infected so that it was useless for a long time.

Mrs. Hathaway said that she was turned out of her home two years ago. Since that time she had existed upon the charity of friends, assistance given her by the Sunshine Club and by the little money she received by selling papers from her wheel chair.

Miss Marie Stakey, No. 930 West Third street, a distant relative, said she had taken the woman into her home and had cared for her a part of the time. She said Hathaway had only given his wife $4.50 for her support and that of her young son in two years, as far as she knew.

Hathaway's defense was that he was only able to earn small wages because of his hand. He said he had acted as a messenger boy, although he was more than 40 years old. He contended that he had sent her money and that he had witnesses to prove that she had declared she would never never accept anything from him.

The case was adjourned until this afternoon.

TRUNK'S PRESCRIPTION FOR RHEUMATISM AND GOUT

Will absolutely and positively overcome any kind or any case of rheumatism or gout on earth. It never fails if the patient will read and follow the directions. It is absurd, ridiculous and preposterous. In fact, it is a pity and a shame to talk about rheumatism and gout, much less to suffer with it, either inflammatory, muscular, sciatic, lumbago or any other form of rheumatism if you will use Trunk's Internal Prescription and Adecta Liniment, and both prescriptions must be used together. Price of both, $1.50, or six of each for $7.50. You simply can't keep rheumatism or gout and take Trunk's Prescription.

This prescription does not ruin the stomach. It does not depress the heart. It does not contain any salicylate of soda, mercury, salophen, aspirin, piperazine, oil of wintergreen or lithia in any form, neither has it any morphine, opium, chloral, bromides or narcotics of any kind. There is nothing just as good as Trunk's prescriptions, and it is impossible to put up something better. Eat all the meat and good food you wish while taking this prescription. Sold by the Off & Vaughn Drug Co., 353 S. Spring St. Mail orders solicited.

BRIDGE PARTY

One of the smartest social functions of the season was the bridge party given yesterday afternoon at the Pasadena Country Club by Mrs. Samuel Cupples Pierce of the Hotel Maryland in honor of Mrs. Charles F. Cantine and Miss Cantine of Kingston, N. Y. The clubhouse was profusely decorated with acacia. Mrs. H. Page Warden and Mrs. Charles Cranz Perkins presided at the table. Cake and ices in the shape of hearts were served in commemoration of St. Valentine's Day. Two beautiful prizes, consisting of wicker trays, were awarded to Mrs. Douglas of Minneapolis and Mrs. Henry H. Sinclair of Pasadena. There were between sixty and seventy guests. Among the out-of-towns were Mrs. Rexwell Brown of Santa Barbara, who is the guest of Mrs. Perkins; Mrs. Howell and Miss Howell of Baltimore, Mrs. Joseph Reed and Miss Margaret Reed of Pittsburgh.
The Monday Afternoon Club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Douglas Turner. The programme was in charge of Miss Trotter and proved to be one of the most interesting of the season.

MRS. RUSSELL SAGE.

Mrs. Russell Sage, accompanied by Maj. and Mrs. Slocum, will arrive at the Hotel Raymond at noon today for a stay of a couple of weeks or more. The party has been at the Alexandria in Los Angeles for a few days, and had intended going to Coronado today, but changed its plans to stop at the Raymond. They will occupy the Raymond bungalow, located in front of the hotel, overlooking the golf links and valley.
Judge and Mrs. George A. Gibbs are entertaining Miss Bertha Elliott of Halifax, N. S. For several years Miss Elliott has been superintendent of nurses at the Provincial Hospital at Halifax. She is now on her way to Patten to assume the same position with the State Hospital for the Insane. She and Mrs. Gibbs were schoolmates.
William W. Withee, president of the National Bank of La Crosse, Wis., will arrive today to join his wife and son, who are spending the winter with Mrs. Withee's mother, Mrs. Laura Wallace, No. 848 East Colorado street.
The matter of the appointment of a police captain to succeed Capt. John Pierce, who resigned a week ago, was not taken up at the meeting of the commissioners yesterday afternoon. The office will not be filled for the present. Lieut. Copping will be on duty during the day, and the night squad will be in charge of Sergt. Longley.

Heart Failure Carries Off Monrovia Man Formerly Prominent in South Dakota Town.

MONROVIA, Feb. 14.—J. Q. Thayer, a retired capitalist 65 years of age, died suddenly at his home on Concord avenue last night, from heart failure superinduced by grip. He seemed well Saturday evening, but complained yesterday of a bad cold and depression. The attack was not deemed severe, and the end came without warning. Mr. Thayer was formerly prominent in business affairs in Melbank, S. D. He came to California in 1901, and for four years resided here. He leaves a widow and three daughters, Mrs. A. C. Gilanth of Watertown, S. D., and Misses Carrie and Bessie Thayer.

PROTEST IS EMPHATIC.

Santa Monica City Council Adopts Resolutions Against Jetties Proposed by Lindsay.

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 14.—The City Council tonight entered an emphatic protest against the construction of any jetties into the ocean along the frontage of the city. Lycurgus Lindsay has an application pending before the War Department for permission to build three jetties in the vicinity of the Hollister-avenue pier. The original intention was to extend them for a considerable distance out, and against that the city complained. The government engineers said the plans had been changed and the request was for permission to drive piles only to the low water line. The Council renewed its objection, stating that no jetties at all are wanted, as they would interfere with the public playground and cause the sand to form new land and change the configuration of the beach.
The Building Inspector having reported the Bristol pier at Hollister avenue as being in an unsafe condition, a menace to human life and to the municipal pier, the City Council tonight adopted a resolution declaring that structure unsafe and condemning it. Notice was ordered to be sent to Lycurgus Lindsay, the owner, to the effect that he would be held responsible for any damage oc-

RUSHING WORK ON CITY HALL.

NEW POMONA STRUCTURE TO BE STRICTLY MODERN.

Plans Call for a Beautiful and Commodious Building—Grounds Will Form a City Park—The Details—City Jail Separate—Street Improvements are Progressing.

POMONA, Feb. 14.—Work on the excavation and foundation of the new $30,000 City Hall is being prosecuted rapidly by the contractor as the building must be completed by July. The structure will be as nearly fireproof as is possible at the cost. It will be Gothic in style and will face north on Fourth street covering a rectangular area 91x82 feet.
The outer walls will be mottled, gray pressed brick trimmed with artificial stone. The building will be two stories high and will support in the center of the roof a large ornamental dome.
There will be a main section flanked by east and west wings. A spacious corridor will lead from the front entrance steps on Fourth street through the building. Opening into this corridor are the offices of the City Clerk, City Engineer, City Treasurer, health department, also a rest room, room for storage and deposit vaults, lavatories and rooms for the Board of Trade.
On the second floor will be the Council chamber, committee rooms, Mayor's office, Street Superintendent's, City Attorney's and Building Inspector's offices.
At the back of the second floor will be living apartments for the janitor and his family.
The basement will contain the heating and ventilating plant. The City Jail will not occupy a part of the building.
There will be a tall flagpole in front of the building and the grounds of the entire block of land, bounded by Fourth, Fifth, Main and Thomas streets, will be laid out for a city park.

STREET WORK.

Contractor Ferrell has many men and teams at work grading on Wilson and Randolph streets, west of Huntington boulevard in the Ganesha Park tract. These streets are being cut through to Hamilton boulevard and it has been necessary to uproot some of the oldest seedling orange trees in the valley to make room for the improvements.

"DIRECT LEGISLATION."

John Z. White, who is lecturing under the auspices of the Henry George Lecture Association, will lecture here at the Board of Trade rooms on "Direct Legislation" on Thursday evening.
Mrs. G. Reisenwitz has sold her three-acre orange grove and house on Central avenue, North Pomona, to W. S. Reiley, taking as part payment the latter's bungalow on East Center street. Total consideration $10,000. The deal was made by Short & Short.

TOURIST PARTY.

Mrs. G. T. Liddle and son, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Liddle and daughter and Mrs. A. H. Cooke of Chino, form a party which has left for Canada. They will visit at Winnipeb and Fort Williams and will remain in the East for six months.
Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Carringer and children have arrived from Denver on a visit to Mrs. Carringer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Olds.

"THE BIG GUN."

New Amusement Device Invented by Ocean Park Man to Be First Tried at Redondo.

OCEAN PARK, Feb. 14.—The amusement device, known as "The Big Gun," recently invented by A. W. Layne of this beach, is meeting with popular reception. The first one to be placed in operation will be at Redondo. Work on the gun has already been commenced, and when completed the device will represent an expenditure of $5000. Other guns are being erected at San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver and St. Louis. The attraction consists of a coast defense gun 120 feet in length and eighteen feet in height.
Ninety persons are seated in a projectile, which is conveyed into the breach of the big gun. Here through mechanical illusions the passengers are treated to all of the sensations of a rapid flight through the air. Moving pictures thrown onto a screen complete the deception, while filmy screens of clouds whirling past on either side, and the blowing of a breeze into the faces of the travelers, complete the deception. Trips to the planets, touring with Halley's comet, a visit to Mars and the descent into the Plutonian abyss are among the slated tours to be taken.

FIRST OF THE SEASON.

Pasadena Man Hooks Yellowtail Off Seal Rocks, Catalina—Eagles Entertain With Picnic.

AVALON, Feb. 14.—While fishing off Seal Rocks last evening, J. Parker of Pasadena caught the first yellowtail taken here this season. The fish tipped the scales at nineteen and one-half pounds, and looked but a few ounces of being the first yellowtail caught large enough to enter into the winter tournament. Two albicore are the only fish yet recorded for this tournament.
Recent arrivals at the Metropole are Lr. C. W. Tanner and wife of Culvertson, Mont.; Al Rothenberg and wife of Kansas City; Rev. Charles Wood and family of Minneapolis T. A. Metcalf and family of Steamboat Springs, Colo.; Dr. George Becker and wife of Prince Albert, Canada; W. F. Hannam and wife of Chicago.
The fourth annual trip was given yesterday by the local Aerie of Eagles. The place chosen was Camp Banning. About 100 persons participated.

AZUSA.

AZUSA, Feb. 14.—Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett of Washington, D. C., since the death of Mr. Crittenden, national president of the Florence Crittenden Rescue Work, spoke in the Presbyterian Church yesterday morning. She was accompanied here by Miss Belle Johnson, head of the Los Angeles Home.

LONG BEACH.

DEATH IS NEAR PROMINENT MAN.

HEMORRHAGE OF THE STOMACH ATTACKS SHRINER.

Physicians Hold Out Little Hope for Samuel Lent, a Leader of the Independent Party, Who Is the Victim of a Malignant Growth. Overstudy Wrecks Student.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 14.—Samuel L. Lent, well-known real estate man, ex-City Trustee and prominent Shriner and Elk, is near death at his home on Pacific avenue. He is suffering from hemorrhage of the stomach, due to a perforating ulcer. Dr. L. A. Perce is in attendance, and Dr. Wellbourn of Los Angeles is in consultation, but has agreed that nothing can be done surgically.
Mr. Lent was taken ill Wednesday, and since that time has had ten hemorrhages, and has grown steadily weaker. This evening the physician held out little hope.
Mr. Lent came here five years ago from San Francisco, where he was a contractor and mining man. He was elected City Trustee, and speedily became a leader of the Independent party. Later he engaged in the real estate business and was elected president of the Realty Board. He is a Mason of high standing, and five years ago was Grand Secretary of the Knights Templar conclave. He is a Thirty-second degree Mason, a Knight Templar, a Shriner and an Elk.
At the last city campaign Mr. Lent was a candidate for Mayor, but was defeated for the nomination. He took charge of the campaign for the Independents and afterward was the choice of the Independent Council majority for the Board of Public Works, but Mayor Windham refused to appoint him.

KANSAS SOCIETY.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Kansas Society today officers elected were George Hamlin, president; J. W. Hand, vice-president; O. B. Meacham, secretary, and H. R. Hobson treasurer.
Everett Buckler, a High School student, is dying at his parent's home on Hill street from brain trouble, brought on by overstudy. He has been ill five days.
A letter received today from Congressman McLachlan says that he has introduced a bill in Congress providing for the purchase of a site for a Federal building. He adds that he does not know whether a public buildings bill will be reported by Congress this year, but if it is Long Beach will be cared for.
There was added to the Chamber of Commerce exhibits this morning an old sewing machine, brought to Los Angeles from Cincinnati, O., in 1853. It has no shuttles or bobbins, but carries two spools of thread, one above and one below.
The statement that the residents of the territory north and east of Long Beach favored annexation was due to misinformation. The straw vote taken at the meeting Saturday night showed six for and forty-five against. Under these conditions no further effort will be made for annexation.

GAME REPORT.

William Frank, game keeper at the Cerritos Gun Club grounds, says this year's shooting was 20 per cent. ahead of last year, figuring on the basis of the twenty-five-bird limit this year against the thirty-five limit last season. Last year there were 3923 birds killed by club members, and this year 3193. There were also twenty-one wild geese killed.
Mrs. Mary A. Kingsbury, aged 52 died last night at her home on Locust avenue. She leaves a widower and two children. The family came to Long Beach four months ago from Ohiowa, Neb.

WAS AN EARLY RESIDENT.

Pioneer Woman of Redondo Beach Wants Her Ashes Strewn Upon Graves of Old Soldiers.

REDONDO BEACH, Feb. 14.—Mrs. Mary T. York, one of the earliest residents, well known both here and in Los Angeles for her activity in various benevolent movements, died this morning at 7:45 o'clock at her home on North Catalina avenue.
By her own request the remains will be cremated and the ashes scattered over the graves of soldiers at Rosedale Cemetery, which for many years as a member of the Stanton Relief Corps of Los Angeles, she decorated with nowers.
Mrs. York was 57 years old and was born in New York. In her girlhood she moved to Denver, Colo., and about twenty-five years ago came to Los Angeles. For the past twenty years she lived here. She leaves a daugher, Mrs. Alice Garthwaite, who lives on Catalina avenue.
Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Cate undertaking parlors. Rev. Dr. Knighten of Los Angeles will officiate. The remains will be cremated the same afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Rosedale Cemetery.
The First Methodist Church was crowded last evening when the W.C.T.U. held memorial services for Frances E. Willard. The congregations of the Baptist and the Congregational churches united with the Methodists.
Mrs. Jane Dawson gave an interesting sketch of the life of Frances Willard whom she knew personally, and Mrs. Lucy Blanchard of Los Angeles talked of Miss Willard's work in the temperance crusade.
Rev. A. L. Lloyd of the Baptist Church spoke of the liquor traffic. Special music and a recitation by Miss Faith Hardy completed the programme.

COMPTON.

COMPTON, Feb. 14.—P. F. Peachy, an old resident of Compton, died at the home of his daughter in San Bernardino, Saturday. His funeral was held today and the body taken to Modesto for interment.
Ray Mealey, who was operated on for appendicitis last week, and whose life was for a time despaired of, is better.

Recommends

Vinol

For Weak, Run-Down People.

"I was run down and weak from indigestion and general debility, also suffered from vertigo. I saw a cod liver preparation called Vinol advertised and decided to give it a trial, and the results were most gratifying. After taking two bottles I regained my strength, and am now feeling unusually well." — HENRY CUNNINGHAM, Elder Baptist Church, Kinston, N.C.

Vinol contains the two most world-famed tonics—the medicinal, strengthening, body-building elements of Cod Liver Oil and Tonic Iron. Vinol contains no oil, and is by far the Best Strengthening Tonic obtainable. We return your money without question if Vinol does not accomplish all we claim for it.

The fire alarm being immediately sounded, every other man on board instantly assumed his station. The blowers were then set in motion, the engine-room cleared of steam and the steam cock was turned off.

Coal Passer Brown, who was farthest away from the stairs, seeing he could not escape by that route, had the presence of mind to roll himself into the coal bunkers. He thus saved himself from being cooked alive in the escaping steam. He emerged after the blowers had been started and the fireroom cleared of steam.

Two acts of heroism are recorded in this connection. Desperate attempts to enter the room before the steam cleared were made and finally R. E. Bonney, chief water tender, was held head downward on the port side by two sailors. In this position he was able to start the blowers going. A similar feat was performed on the starboard side by S. L. Almon, machinists' mate. It meant death to either to breathe the steam.

The fire alarm soon brought other torpedo boats alongside the Hopkins and medical aid was administered to the scalded sailors. After temporary relief had been given, the men were removed to a local hospital. As soon as the boiler was repaired the Hopkins sailed with the fleet for San Pedro to join in target practice. The Hopkins is in command of Lieut. E. Fredericks, who was eating breakfast when the accident occurred.

The nine vessels of the torpedo-boat flotilla reached San Pedro from San Diego shortly after 9 o'clock last night. They left the southern port about 11 a.m. and came up slowly. Lieut. Fredericks, in command of the Hopkins, stated the accident was due to a defect in the material of which the boiler tube was constructed. He has asked for an investigation and Capt. Richards, in command of the flotilla, will probably appoint the board of inquiry today. The flotilla is anchored in the outer harbor.

E. A. Clary, assistant water tender, who was scalded on the neck and arms, came up on the Hopkins.

CITRUS TREES IN GOOD SHAPE.

GREAT REPUTATION FOR SAN JACINTO VALLEY.

Winter's Ravages Not Noticeable Here—Result Will Be Many Acres of New Orchards This Year—Great Activity in Water Development. Many New Wells.

SAN JACINTO, Feb. 14.—Orange groves of the San Jacinto Valley came through the trying cold weather of December and January in excellent condition. At Valle Vista, at the head of the San Jacinto Valley, many acres are planted to bearing trees and this season a considerable acreage will be added. Will Whittier, son of W. F. Whittier, the San Francisco millionaire, will be the most prominent planter.

On the northern rim of the valley the trees fared equally well, and the excellent condition of groves owned by J. T. Richey and John G. Burger has caused other landowners in that locality to investigate the industry. It is likely that during the coming spring oranges will be planted on the Zuber ranch, the Gladysdale ranch, and on what is known as the lime kiln property adjoining the Burger place on the west.

WELL BORING.

The new owners of the 4600-acre Byrne tract have decided to develop water for the property by boring wells and installing pumping plants and this week received a car of well boring tools. The machinery will be put to work at once, where water experts have located a fine underground stream.

The owners will subdivide the tract and sell small holdings with or without a water right. It is reported that W. W. Middlecoff, one of the owners, has reserved 1000 acres for his private use, upon which he will build a country home. This body of land will be graded and seeded to alfalfa as rapidly as men and teams can accomplish the work.

SUMMER FALLOWING.

The Nuevo Land Company is running nine plows summer fallowing 6500 acres of land at Lakeview. This company summer fallowed more land last year than any other concern in the county, and received crop yields averaging from twenty to thirty-five sacks of barley to the acre.

Strong & Dickinson of Los Angeles, were in the valley last week locating wells on their tract near San Jacinto Lake. They will sink a number of deep ones at different points during the coming spring. They expect to install pumping plants and develop several hundred inches of water.

W. G. Henderson and G. Fogg last week bought ten acres of land on Meridian street, adjoining the Turner ranch, the consideration being $125 an acre. They will sink wells and develop their own water supply.

Will H. Gray has bought a building lot on Jordan avenue, and will immediately begin the erection of a dwelling-house, which he will occupy with his family.

WANT WAGON ROAD.

Supervisor John Shaver is at Blythe, on the Colorado River, on official business. Residents of the Palo Verde country want a county road connecting that section with the new Santa Fé cut-off, twenty-five miles distant. At present the nearest railroad point is Gainnis on the Southern Pacific, seventy-five miles distant. Supervisor Shaver will inspect the route of the proposed new county road and if a wagon road is feasible will order one constructed.

Hemet begins its municipal career as a prohibition town and the newly-elected Trustees will at once adopt a prohibition ordinance. On the second Monday in April, the terms of the temporary board will expire and a full quota of town officers will be elected. At that time the question of a wet or dry town will be determined for the next two years.

While driving his automobile without lights, Saturday night, Albert Pico misjudged the location of a bridge and plunged his machine into an arroyo. The front wheels were damaged beyond repair and the car was otherwise hurt to the extent of $250. Occupants of the car were uninjured.

DEATH ENDS SUFFERING.

The death of Bessie Blodgett occured Saturday at the home of Mrs. Eunice McPhetridge, after a lingering illness. The girl had been a sufferer from heart trouble all her life, and for the last two years her condition was beyond hope.

C. F. Blair arrived from Los Angeles Saturday to join his wife and small son. The family expect to return to San Jacinto to reside permanently.

ANOTHER ARTESIAN WELL.

Imperial Valley Settlers Again Rejoice Because Good Flow of Sweet Water Is Struck.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL CENTRO, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Imperial Valley settlers again rejoice because of the discovery of artesian water. Word was received here today announcing the strike of a good artesian flow of sweet water in a four-inch well on San Felipe townsite, section 8, township 13, range 10, at a depth of 760 feet. The well is not cased, but the water is flowing freely over the top of the hole. The well at Holtville on the east side of the valley is being cased. Drilling CRUSHED.

CHILD KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE.

LOSES LIFE WHILE RETURNING FROM SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

Chino Girl Steps Out of the Way of One Machine, But Is Bewildered When Another Comes from Opposite Direction—Coroner's Jury Calls Accident Unavoidable.

CHINO, Feb. 14.—Thelma Raymond, 12 years old, while returning from Sunday-school yesterday afternoon, was run down by an automobile driven by L. Vredenburgh, and instantly killed. The heavy machine passed over her head, crushing it to a pulp, and almost every bone in her body was broken. The Coroner's jury returned a verdict of unavoidable accident.

The child was attracted into the street by children playing on a sand pile in front of the George Holcomb building. On starting back to the sidewalk an automobile sped by with unslackened speed. This bewildered the child, who started to return to the sand pile, when the Vredenburgh machine whizzed up from an opposite direction, at a speed of fifteen miles an hour, and killed her.

RAMONA.

RAMONA, Feb. 14.—Robbers last night broke into the office of Dr. James Booth and picked the lock of a small safe securing $150 in cash. When Dr. Booth reached his office this morning he found that thieves had entered through a window. The door of the safe was left open.

LIVE WIRES

LOS ANGELES and Southern California are said to be the largest consumers of wire in the United States. However true this may be, it is a fact that the electric railways, the two telegraph and two telephone companies have a great deal of copper and iron wire strung out, and you can be sure that most of these wires are "busy." One company has over 2,000 miles of copper wire in Southern California alone. They are real live wires. They assist in the transaction of business, and make possible a much larger volume of business than could possibly be tranacted without them. These wires are vital and necessary to modern life.

We frequently hear prominent men who are actively engaged in the great affairs of life referred to as live wires. These men have strong characters, are very positive, and easily take the lead. Such men do not effect the extreme in clothes. You will always find them well dressed, but they do not care for freakish or extreme styles. A bargain (?) counter suit at a cut price does not attract them. They know from experience that you get what you pay for, and nothing more.

We reiterate what we have said many times before, that you cannot buy better clothes than are to be found in this store, nor better values in dollars and cents.

The collars on Wood Brothers' hand-tailored coats are put on by hand. The lapels are finished out to the edge by hand. The fronts being all thoroughly worked by hand, will positively hold their shape.

lthough Myers was received in the ne of his inamorata in Pasadena was regarded as a prospective -in-law, the girl's father did not pect anything improper in their ations until yesterday, when Miss con confessed and told him of the ntemplated damage suit. He is d to be prostrated by the dis-shows her to be a writer of no mean ability and Myers to be a soldier of fortune with a remarkable career.

It was to get the literary material for this sketch, the substance of which follows, that Miss Gibson went to Myers's splendid house in Long Beach:

THE MAN WHO WON.
BY JULIA WARD GIBSON.

Above my desk is a copy of a famous picture, "The Conquerors." Relentless, pitiless, trampling under the iron hoofs of their horses every obstacle in their pathway, they advance, flanked by the stiff, nude corpses of the millions they have beaten down in their progress. The faces of these conquerors are those of men, kings and emperors, who ruled by right of inheritance and by the right of might.
While not so spectacular as to methods and costuming as were those blood-thirsty tyrants of old, there are still men today whose success and millions are derived by oppression of the poor, the young, and the old, who work for them. But occasionally one meets a man who, by sheer grit, determination and confidence in his ability to win, achieves golden success and the highest position in the eyes of his fellow-men. Such a man is Alva De Witt Myers, the subject of this sketch, and the man who is known as the father of Goldfield.
Born in La Grand, Iowa, in 1872, of sturdy, industrious Anglo-German parents, the future capitalist, at the age of 13, left his home and went to the mining districts of the West, and worked among the mines and miners at such jobs as a boy of his age could secure. One day in comfortable circumstances, the next he would be broke, and at such times, when he seemed to have exhausted the resources of one camp, he would travel in a convenient side-door sleeper, or upon the unluxurious brake beam, to the next camp where the prospect for a rich strike seemed good.
In this way he traveled and worked through Colorado, Oregon, Washington and Montana. Coming to Nevada in the eighteenth year of his chase after the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow of hope which had sustained his efforts, at what is now Goldfield he made his first successful strike, the combination mine, which was discovered on May 24, 1903. In the autumn of 1902, October to be exact, Mr. Myers named the city he had founded "Goldfield." I think it is pretty generally known that this is the greatest mining town and that here are the biggest gold mines in the world. What Cecil Rhodes did for the world in the discovery of the diamond mines of Africa, Mr. Myers has done as the developer of the mineral resources of Nevada.
One of the first mines he controlled was the Combination mines property, which was sold to the Goldfield Consolidated Company. This mine is a big producer and already about $4,000,000 worth of ore has been taken from it. The Fraction, Silver Pick and C. O.D. are other valuable properties which Mr. Myers owns, or has owned, but the mines that he considers his greatest achievements are the Mohawk and the Johnnie mines, both of which he developed and made of them two of the best-paying propositions in the world. For thirty years previous to Mr. Myers's management of the Johnnie mine, it had been practically worthless.
Mr. Myers lives at Long Beach, Cal., and his home is one of the most beautiful and perfectly appointed in Southern California. It is situated upon a high bluff overlooking the Pacific, and from every room in the house one gets a glorious view of the ocean. Terraces and wide stone steps lead down to the water's edge, and one of the landings is just the right height from which to step aboard Mr. Myers's yacht. At night the lights which decorate the pillars of the landings send their cheerful glow far out over the waters of the bay. The front view of the place is quite as beautiful, but perhaps a trifle more stately and conventional. The drawing-room, entrance hall, and dining-room extend across the front of the house, a distance of ninety-six feet, and, as are every nook and corner of the place, are symphonies of luxury and color harmonies possible only when good taste and unlimited financial resources are combined. Mr. Myers's den is carried out in Moorish design, while other rooms are carried out in Louis XV and Dresden designs. The billiard-room is in tones of the richest brown and gold, but I think the owner of this beautiful place probably gets as much satisfaction from the plunge in the basement as from any other part of the house.
But with all the luxury of his home Mr. Myers says he can be quite as comfortable in a box car or camped on the desert with the saddle of his horse for a pillow and the stars for a coverlet.
"Love your enemies" is not, however, one of Mr. Myers's precepts, and those who have done him a mean trick expect to receive their medicine sooner or later, but to those of his friends who are sincere, nothing is too much for him to do for them. Mr. Myers has proved conclusively that man is indeed master of his fate, and he has won out.

TWO BANKRUPTCY CASES.

J. A. Gray, a general merchant of Beaumont, Riverside county, filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition in the United States District Court yesterday. His stated liabilities are approximately $35,000 and his assets are about the same figure. The debts include bills for merchandise, pay of employés and money due contractors in Beaumont. Some time ago ,creditors filed an involuntary petition against Gray. The first hearing will be before Thomas T. Porteous, referee in bankruptcy, in Riverside. Mrs. Margaret Studebaker, proprietor of a local restaurant, filed a voluntary petition. Her debts are about $500 and assets are nominal.

APPOINTED GUARDIAN.

FRESNO, Feb. 14.—Mrs. Annie Taplin was this morning appointed by Judge Austin of the Superior Court as guardian of Eddie Taplin, a jockey, whose home is in this city. Mrs. Taplin stated in her application that her son is a minor and is earning $500 per month. A bond of $5000 was required by the court, and this was furnished by a surety company.

WHISTLES ITSELF DEAD.

FRESNO, Feb. 14.—One of the queerest accidents in railroading happened yesterday when engine No. 452, in charge of W. C. Gardner, whistled itself dead at Bullard ,a few miles north of here. Another locomotive had to be sent for it, causing a delay of two hours.

The spirit of a publication is an actual thing. It assimilates the personality of an editor, the genius of a publisher, the talent of artists, a past of honorable progress, a future of enlightened intent—and it stands a living reality, discernible both by the people who compose it and the public for whom it is composed.

Competitors cannot duplicate this spirit behind the work, because it is not a matter of type appearance, nor page size.

The spirit of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL is a well-known thing to the women of America, and without doubt it exerts a helpful influence upon the advertisements which are received into its company.

Perhaps you think this reasoning is fine-drawn and fantastic. It is not, and its vindication is to be found in the advertising success of our clients who bank on it.

Every effect has a cause. He is a wise advertiser who finds the cause, and then, reversing the process, works again to a still greater effect.

The Curtis Publishing Company

The circulation of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL is more than 1,300,000 copies, each month. The same forces which have created THE JOURNAL'S unique circulation have, at the same time, made it an advertising medium of unique power.

SUREST SIGN OF SPRING.

When Toddlers Get the Wanderlust Warm Weather Is Here—One on a Trip Yesterday.

Mike Martino of No. 1412 Hawthorn street opened the wanderlust season yesterday afternoon. Mike is only 2½ years old. This is the first time that warm weather found him with sufficient command of his little legs to toddle as he pleased. When the exploration fever seized upon him yesterday he fell an easy victim.
His father and mother were both away, and Mike saw a fine chance to go romancing wherever he pleased. When his parents returned, at 6 o'clock, Mike was not to be found anywhere in the neighborhood, and Martino flew to the Police Station. While the desk sergeant was taking down the description, a newspaper reporter was forming the acquaintance of Mr. Mike near the corner of Hill and First, quite a long way from his home. Mike was beginning to be very lonesome, for all that he had acquired was two big oranges somewhere in his travels of the afternoon, and the reporter coaxed him to the Police Station, where there was a rapturous meeting between father and son.
Police authority is quoted to the effect that the reappearance of runaway "kids" is the surest sign of the return of warm weather. No runaway toddlers are ever picked up in winter.
